Staggered Hours :
And Other Matters

To the Editor of the
"North-China Daily News"

Sir,—A good deal can be said for Yu Yuen Road's letter, particularly the use of the side-walk for everything except pedestrians, for this the authorities are only partly responsible owing to the terrible overcrowding in the Settlement.

Conditions being what they are, and only half the road space available for vehicles, I think the SM.C. could help a great deal to relieve congestion during rush hours by either advancing or retarding their office hours by say 15 minutes, this would not work a hardship, in fact may be a very good thing to enable business men 15 minutes to transact business, etc., outside of their own regular office hours.

If other large business houses would follow the S.M.C's lead, conditions would be greatly improved both for private motor cars and public conveyances.

I realize this is not a novel suggestion, but if the Traffic Authorities do not consider 15 minutes an adequate spread, possibly the S.M.C. may consider a 30 minutes' interval. To be really effective this interval will have to include the luncheon period when the most serious congestion takes place.

In this connection I suggest that the Traffic Department should devise some system to prevent empty rickshaws from loitering in the Central District in places where there is a bottle-neck such as Szechuen Road/Nanking Road; one empty rickshaw can stop the flow of traffic very effectually.

I admit that recently a foreign inspector has greatly improved matters, but police should be stationed at road intersections during rush hours to divert empty rickshaws into less busy channels.

In conclusion, it is my opinion the automatic light signal on Szechuen/Nanking Road is not a success as it is operated at present; it would be a huge success if the Bund, Szechuen Road, Kiangse Road lights were synchronized so that a green light from the Bund would give a straight run through; as matters stand at present it usually takes from 8-12 minutes to negotiate these three blocks.

15 Minutes.

Shanghai, Oct. 28.

Silver Linings :
Question of Point of View

To the Editor of the
"North-China Daily News"

Sir,—I read with great interest N.S.C.'s comment in today's "N.C.D.N." The "silver lining" and the "turning point" I liked especially. To be able to enjoy N.S.C.'s elaboration still more, I would be greatly interested to hear from where N.S.C. is watching this "silver lining" and "turning point" business. It from one of the refugee camps, one of the many alleys where the poor victims of this war lead a miserable life, or if he is "suffering" in one of the sheltered mansions of the International or French Concession.

Besides it would be very interesting to know with which Chinese unit and on which front line N.S.C. has been or is performing his patriotic duty. Further if N.S.C. is thinking about maintaining his "attitude of non-compromising and non-cooperation" in the guerilla infested parts of the country, shoulder to shoulder with the suffering part of the population, or within the shelter of the International or French Concession.

I fully agree with N.S.C., that after the silver shipment has been removed from the President Coolidge nobody knows, what "is up in the sleeves of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek."

Rue du Consulat :
Time of Street Cleaning

To the Editor of the
"North-China Daily News"

Sir,—Skidding. Rue du Consulat between the hours of 8.30 a.m. and 9 a.m. (the busiest half-hour of the morning) reminds one of the London Transport Co's testing ground at Chiswick where a large tract of concrete is specially treated with grease purposely to produce the most violent skids, the only difference being that the bus drivers at Chiswick do not have to contend with solid obstructions such as trams and street islands, and sudden brakings caused by the scurryings of absent minded pedestrians, rickshaw pullers and cyclists, to say nothing of the inevitable fu-fu carts, in a confined space.

Surely the F.M.C. can arrange a more convenient and considerate hour for street ablutions, or must it take a serious accident to produce a revision of their present arrangements.

A Dampened Motorist.

The A. O. F. C.:
Another Liquidation Query

To the Editor of the
"North-China Daily News"

Sir,—I notice in your reply to Stung that the American-Oriental Bank has paid five dividends so far to creditors and I would like to enquire through your columns about the position of the American-Oriental Finance Corporation. Creditors have received only one dividend of 20 per cent. since the Finance Corporation went into liquidation in 1935 and I would appreciate learning whether there is still hope for at least one more dividend.

Hopeful.

Key to Peace:
An Interesting Suggestion

To the Editor of the
"North-China Daily News"

Sir,—If understanding, co-operation and justice are the key to peace in international relations, then it is to the interest of all nations, including Japan, that understanding, co-operation and justice should characterize the solution of the present differences between China and Japan, and the deplorable situation in the Far East.

It is suggested for consideration by the Imperial Japanese Government, that it declare an immediate armistice between Japan and China, and invite an international commission consisting of representatives of France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Soviet Russia and the United States to meet with representatives of Japan, and study the Far Eastern situation, and seek a solution involving the following characteristics:—

1. A just determination of Japan's aims with relation to China.
2. Internal order and security in China.
3. Recognition of a Chinese Government.
4. Recognition of Japan's interests, and the interests of other nations.
5. Conformity with existing multilateral treaties.
6. Establishment of new treaty relations between China and Japan.
7. Encouragement of economic rapprochement between China and Japan.
8. International co-operation in Chinese reconstruction.
9. Provision for settlement of future disputes with facilities for handling such disputes in their incipiency.
10. A report with full publicity in all countries, stating the Commission's findings and the suggested plan for solution of the differences.

Local Concerto:
Composer Congratulated

To the Editor of the
"North-China Daily News"

Sir,—I read with interest and some amusement your correspondent Another Concert Goer's letter in today's issue of your journal and must confess that I am somewhat bewildered by his expression "Mr. Aksakov's Noah's Ark."

I am not a very advanced Bible student, but I seem to remember that the article in question was used for preserving human and animal life from destruction; can he mean that our local composer is endeavouring to preserve famous compositions in the same way—possibly from destruction in future European wars?

Whilst admitting that there certainly is a distinct flavour of some of the old Russian composers in the concerto under discussion—also that there are a few faults which might well be corrected, such as overmuch repetition of certain themes—I think we must not lose sight of the fact that there are some most beautiful melodies to be found here, also the skilful blending of piano and orchestra is very well worthy of notice. Certain parts of the concerto are to my mind a pure delight, and and I am convinced that this is the best work Mr. Aksakov has produced to date.

In conclusion I think we should always welcome a new composer, as, to my mind at any rate, his efforts come as a stimulating change from the constant hearing of the works of old masters. Also, while we may, in a generous manner and with honest criticism, point out some of his faults, we should not allow those to blind us to the good points.

So let us hope that the composer in question will go right ahead and produce better and even better works, which in the end may please even the severest critic.

Congratulations Mr. Aksakov!!!

B. Moll.

Sixty Years Ago

From the "North-China Daily News" of October 28, 1878

We are glad to see that the Municipal Council are intent on rounding street corners and increasing the width of the streets wherever practicable. A reference to the minutes of the Council Meeting held on the 21st instant, will show that the corner of Hankow and Szechuen Roads is to be rounded, and that the widening of Hankow Road between Szechuen Road and the Bund is postponed for the purpose of ascertaining from the owners whether they will surrender, at the assessed value, the necessary strip of land. The question of introducing the French gas company's mains into the English Settlement was also discussed, and resulted in the decision that, as it was a question of great importance to the community, the Council would prefer that it be referred to the ratepayers.

STOMACH COMPLAINTS

Husband's Long Illness Causes Wife's
NERVOUS BREAK-DOWN

Dear Sirs,—My husband has been a great sufferer ever since the Great War through chronic gastric and other stomach complaints caused through the war. He has been in five hospitals in London and one in Suffolk but never seemed to get well.

Now he enjoys his food and gets a good night's rest. I feel it my duty to write and thank you as I am sure it is only your most wonderful tonic that could have worked such a miracle and restored my husband back to good health.

I was very ill a little while ago, I had a very bad nervous break-down through my husband's health. I could not get about, I was in hospital 11 weeks, I came home no better. I could not walk or get upstairs, so my husband said: "I think we will try Yeast-Vite," and I got a bottle. We had the contents between us and now I can do my house-work and a day's hard washing and not feel tired. I also walked 14 miles yesterday. I can say that Yeast-Vite is the most wonderful tonic in the world.

Yours gratefully, F.S.

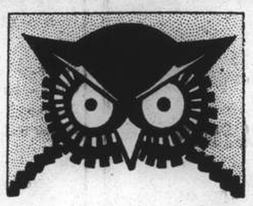
HALLOWEEN PARTY SPECIALS

The owl hoots, black cats hump their backs and screech, story-book witches stalk through everyone's imagination! Make the most of Hallowe'en—have a party—you'll find everything for fun and festivity in our party-minded page.



The Story of Hallowe'en

Nowadays it is America which most honours Hallowe'en. Merry parties peopled with witches, black cats, owls and pumpkin-head ghosts are eyed somewhat wistfully by Britons as being something to which they have rather lost the key. Yet the origins of the festival are to be sought for in the mists of immemorial time and Hallowe'en, in spite of its holy name, is a curious survival of classic mythology and the beliefs of that sinister cult of Druidism which Ancient Britain shared with Gaul. The tradition of Hallowe'en was carried by the English to the new land of America and there made fresh roots, stronger and jollier than the old and parted from the vague fears which tempered the feasting in the land of its origin. But in the American small boy's urge to build bonfires at this time of the year may be traced a outcropping of an old religious tenet!

* * *

An Eerie Crowd

The Druids of Ancient Britain and Gaul—first originators of "Hallowe'en" celebrations—were a distinctly eerie crowd. They are so far back in history that to all but the antiquarian they have merged into the weird pillars of their temple, Stonehenge, and the Avebury Stones, and have become one with the downs and oak woods of Wiltshire and the dark mountains of Wales.

They had a firm belief in immortality and in metempsychosis or the passage of the soul after death from one animal body to another, and they had the unpleasant habit of offering human sacrifices—though they did limit themselves, when the supply was good, to criminals.

At Stonehenge each Midsummer Morning it is still the custom for strong-minded early risers to drive out to Stonehenge from Salisbury and the country round to see the sun rise upon a special stone. If it doesn't happen to be raining or clouded over, which, you may be sure, often happens, the sight is an impressive one. The Druids are suspected of having got to work on the human sacrifice as soon as the sun's beams lighted on him as he lay upon the stone.

Dire Punishments

The Druids were the learned and priestly class and had the power of inflicting severe penalties, of which excommunication from society was the most dreaded. They struck terror into Suetonius Paulinus' legionaries when they made the attack on what is now Anglesea Island by pouring forth terrific imprecations on the invaders with their hands upraised to heaven. History states that the Romans soon recovered themselves and put the Britons to flight, cutting down the oak groves which had been the scene of many a sacrifice and bloody rite. That must have astonished the Druids, for they were used to being very frightful, and frequently threw themselves between two opposing armies to bring about peace. In fact, the conquest of Anglesea seems to have been the end of the Druids in England and Wales thought they managed to carry on for quite a time in Ireland, making themselves thoroughly unpleasant in the way of casting spells, producing insanity, raising clouds and mist so as to impede St. Patrick's progress as much as possible, and altogether acting entirely worthily of the witches and ghosts and hooting owls which still remain to make us think of them at this time of the year.

* * *

How Hallowe'en Was Born.

On October 31—so held the Druids—Saman, great lord of death, summoned all the wicked souls who had been condemned during the year and ordered them to inhabit the bodies of animals.

To ward off the wicked spirits which they felt were prowling the fields and woods on that night, the Druids built huge bonfires and kept a sharp lookout. In course of time came the Roman conquest, and to Saman's night the Romans added their own harvest celebrations in honour of Pomona, goddess of fruit trees, with the nuts and apples which to them signified the winter store of fruits.

By the time the Christian missionaries reached Britain, the British and Roman festivals were strongly fused. The Christians brought a new set of holidays and religious tenets. But the mystery and symbolism of the last night of October were not to be easily uprooted and so the Christian missionaries compromised. To offset the black magic of Druid superstition, the next day—November 1—was declared to be All Saints' Day, and the evening preceding it was named hallowed or holy evening, in popular parlance became Hallowe'en.

The new name, however, did not alter the character of the occasion in the eyes of the people. All Saints' Day was politely acknowledged, but the preceding evening remained the night when ghosts walked and, as such, was respectfully observed. As time went on, a kindlier type of ghost was substituted—the departed spirits of the family were allowed, on this one night of the year, to visit their old homes. In Ireland, Scotland and Wales food was left for them, hearths were carefully swept, and chairs placed before the fire before the peasants went to bed.

Ghost Lore

In lonely country districts the villagers used to gather together round great log fires in their houses, and tell each other stories of queer noises, strange flutterings, and trembling shadows. But it was a pleasurable eeriness which they called up and they played games in which the apples and nuts of the Romans continued to play their part.

Eating an apple before a looking glass was traditionally supposed to reveal a girl's future husband, who would be seen peering over her shoulder. Ducking for apples, still a popular Hallowe'en game used to be preceded by a more risky performance in which a lighted candle and an apple were placed at opposite ends of a stick and the stick twirled horizontally. The idea was to bite the apple as it passed—though more often the competitors received hot candle grease instead.

* * *

"Nut-Crack Night"

In northern England Hallowe'en used to be known as "Nut-crack Night," because people gathered not only to crack and eat the new season's nuts, but also to use them as a means of prophesying the course of love affairs. Nut kernels, named for people were placed in the fire. If the kernel jumped from the fire, the lover it was named for was unfaithful; if it smouldered, the lover had only a mild regard for the person making the test; if it blazed brightly this was a symbol of true love and devotion. A gloomier test, which would appeal only to the morose, was to place as many small stones as there were persons around in the embers of the Hallowe'en fires. Next morning a search was made and if any of the stones were displaced it was regarded as certain that the persons for whom they were named would die within the coming twelve months.

* * *

A Savoury Dish

In Ireland and Scotland it is still the custom to prepare a bowl of mashed potatoes, parsnips and chopped onions on Hallowe'en. Into this mixture, named "call-cannon" for a reason not known, a gold ring is concealed. At dinner each guest helps himself to a generous portion from a deep bowl, and the one receiving the ring will be married within the year; or, if already married, will have further good luck. A loaf cake is sometimes substituted for the call-cannon, and a key and ring hidden in it. The key signifies a journey; the ring marriage or good luck.

In Belgium, Germany and parts of France, Hallowe'en is called by various names and observed by carnivals and masquerades, but it lacks the supernatural background that it has in Britain, which was due to the fusion of the Christian festival with the older spirit worship of the Druids.

IMPARTIAL NOT NEUTRAL

U.S. AND JAPAN

It has now transpired that the United States has formally demanded, in a Note presented to Prince Konoye, the Japanese Prime Minister and concurrently Foreign Minister, the cessation of all Japanese discrimination against the trade of the United States with China. The list of complaints against Japan contained in the Note is not so long as it might be, though the manner of their generalization covers more than would at first appear. Reports from the north for months past have dwelt upon the manner in which the Japanese authorities are planning to bring about a condition in which they will have monopolistic control of China's commerce. It is to be expected that, as opportunity offers, the same plans will be extended elsewhere and there are already signs that the process will be followed in Central China, and, it is to be expected, ultimately in the south. By the establishment of exchange control, the creation of monopolies, the prohibition of certain exports, and general discrimination against non-Japanese traders, the Japanese are seeking to wrest some immediate returns from their military adventure, and establish the machinery through which it will eventually be paid for. And it is being done with complete disregard either of the rights of foreign neutrals in this country, or of the promises which Japan has so frequently made through her State officials. One of the principal rights of foreigners in China is that of being able to trade freely with equality of opportunity. The maintenance of the Open Door is something to which Japan is completely committed without any reservation whatsoever, but despite that commitment it is apparent that she is engaged in courses which the history of Manchoukuo during the past seven years has taught the world to expect. The American Note asks Japan to implement the assurances which have already been given with regard to the maintenance of the Open Door and non-interference with American rights by undertaking certain measures which are detailed.

Those measures if taken by Japan would mean nothing less than a complete stoppage of the present policy and the restoration of former conditions under which all nations trading with China were on the same footing. The Note in effect requires the abandonment by Japan of present policies and a return to practices more in congruity with her pre-hostilities' undertakings and her more recent promises. Despite the fact that the Note was presented so long ago as October 6, there has been up to the present no announcement of the receipt of the Japanese reply. It is obvious that the rendering of an answer satisfactory to the United States must be a matter of some difficulty. The establishment of monopolies in favour of the big Japanese interests cannot be excused on the ground of military necessity, and if any such attempt is made, it will most certainly be disbelieved. The denial of harbour facilities at Tsingtao to all but Japanese shipping can also be excused for no such reason, and it is clear that this often repeated excuse is being used for the purpose of permitting Japanese traders to establish themselves in such a position that when China is again open to trade it will be possible to permit other foreigners to trade with perfect freedom and equality in goods which have already been cornered by the Japanese. They are in fact not only ensuring control of supplies which they badly need themselves but are establishing themselves in the position of middlemen who alone will be able to sell the surplus abroad. There is another aspect of the whole matter which will undoubtedly appeal to sentiment in the United States. The formation of these monopolies which are subject of complaint places an equal stranglehold upon the Chinese themselves. They will obtain for their produce only what the monopolies care to pay, and the result is that they will suffer from the absence of that competition which alone assures the producer adequate recompense for his labour. The whole scheme is one of downright exploitation on an enormous scale.

The United States Government is not without means of bringing very considerable pressure to bear upon Japan in the event of failure to bring about a satisfactory change in the situation. Retaliation against Japanese trade may very well prove a particularly effective weapon, for any limitation of Japanese trade with the United States would prove a most serious blow to the economic condition of the country. That is a consideration which has not escaped the notice of other countries also suffering from the Japanese commercial policy in China, and it will be as well for Tokyo to remember that though it may secure to itself all the supplies which China produces, inability to process most of it for export abroad means the deprivation of that income so necessary to Japan. Goods which Japan would be unable to dispose of would not be assets, but possibly serious liabilities. Japanese export trade depends to a very great extent upon the goodwill of those countries with which she does business, and it cannot be believed for one moment that the Japanese are blind to the fact that a continuance of present policies will do anything but destroy it. There should be no doubt about it that discrimination is a dangerous weapon for when employed it invites just that same type of retaliation, and in this instance a retaliation which will be more effective against Japan than it could ever be against the United States. Naturally the Japanese reply will be awaited with great interest, for upon it much may depend. Wisdom would suggest that the best reply would be to fall in with the American demands, though recently stimulated enthusiasms may serve to prevent what would be indeed a pleasurable issue out of the present distressing situation.

Government Retain Oxford

The Oxford City by-election, which has resulted in the Conservative candidate retaining the seat formerly occupied by the late Captain the Rt. Hon. R. C. Bourne, is not so significant as the first review of the figures would seem to suggest. At the last general election the total number of voters in the constituency was 38,557. Capt. Bourne secured 16,306, and his Labour opponent, Mr. P. Gordon-Walker, 9,661. At this by-election about 28,000 voted, Mr. Quintin Hogg obtaining 15,797 votes as against Mr. Lindsay's 12,363. It will be noticed that in a contest which was fought about the Prime Minister's foreign policy the Conservative candidate polled 600 votes less than his predecessor, while his opponent obtained 2,700 more. There are still some 10,000 votes in the Constituency which were not polled. On the figures the comparatively small drop in the poll registered for Mr. Hogg indicates that the general support for the Conservative cause has suffered a very slight setback, certainly nothing to give the Government reason to worry. What is of importance, however, is the fact that so important an increase in the opposition's figures indicates the strength of that section of the public which strongly disapproves of the Munich Accord. That disapproval has grown since the excitement of the crisis has disappeared, but there is nothing in the figures to suggest that it will grow to such an extent as to overwhelm the National Government when next it goes to the polls. By that time, however, the success or failure of Mr. Chamberlain's foreign policy will be plain for all men to see, and, if it is as successful as his supporters hope it will be, the National Government will be practically sure of a return to office. By many it was thought that Mr. Chamberlain would go to the country immediately after the settlement of the Czechoslovak crisis, and from the point of view of party tactics there was much to commend it. Mr. Chamberlain refused, however, to take advantage of the situation, and in doing so adopted a very sporting line to the dismay of some of his supporters who thought very differently.

Hard Cash

Once upon a time reference to a man with gold jingling in his pocket meant that he was a man of substance because he possessed something tangible in metallic value which could be used in international exchange. Nowadays, there are no gold coins in circulation owing to the stringent requirements of international financial and economic conditions. Some countries still possess silver coins which are chiefly of token value and do not represent any specie value. Some countries, like China, do not have even silver coins in circulation, preferring a currency system in paper and nickel or other metal theoretically redeemable at a central bank but only in terms of other currencies which quote gold but refuse to produce it on demand and this metal is becoming so rare that during a lifetime the only occasion anybody sees it is on marriage or the presentation of a watch. It is reported now that Japan has decided to withdraw copper coins from circulation and will replace this subsidiary currency with disks of aluminium. This will mean that the country will recover 10,000 tons of copper necessary for national needs, probably for war supplies, and therefore even the humblest coinage has started on the road to extinction dictated by emergencies. Conversion of metallic currency is nothing new. It was suggested at the time China decided on a nickel currency that this was a subterfuge, adopted by other countries, to lay in a supply of nickel which could be used in war-time for ammunition purposes but this has not happened. With everything worth while in public estimation disappearing there is one consolation. Cowrie shells and other perfectly unwarlike tokens are still available, but just as gold is swallowed up for personal ornaments, bowing to fashion dictates they may start using them as articles of female adornment in the return to those primitive conditions which seem to be characterising other phases of this world's ethnic existence.

The New First Lord

The appointment of Earl Stanhope as First Lord of the Admiralty in succession to Mr. Alfred Duff Cooper should receive general approval. Mr. Duff Cooper resigned on a question of policy following the Chamberlain settlement of the Czechoslovak problem, and although the Prime Minister's action was put to the vote in the House of Commons and received appoval it was entirely a party vote in view of the secession of the younger Conservative group. Lord Stanhope's appointment leaves the composition of the Cabinet unchanged from a party viewpoint. Going to the Admiralty, Lord Stanhope is no fledgling in naval affairs although he had a distinguished army career. Precedent has long been established in British political life to combine army and navy experience. Mr. Duff Cooper was war Secretary before going to the Admiralty but Lord Stanhope has more intimate connection because he served as Civil Lord of the Admiralty from 1924-29 and was Parliamentary and Financial Secretary to the Admiralty for a brief period in 1931 when he familiarized himself with the particular problems of the Navy. A tribute to himself and others who steadfastly fought for the naval side at a time when Britain's first line of defence was attacked and looked as if it were to be sabotaged is found in the expressions of praise in the comments on the country's preparedness during the European crisis now the subject of an exhaustive post mortem being conducted at home. Opinions regarding the army are not so definitely exalting. On the whole, the choice seems a good one and will ensure a continuity of policy so necessary in maintaining defence needs in line with national policy.

No Bets for a Year

A condition that he must not bet on horses for twelve months was imposed by the magistrates at Leighton Buzzard, yesterday, on S.A.V., a 28-year-old brick worker, when he was bound over on a charge of stealing £25 from his brother.

When questioned about the missing money, Vincent said: "I've had it. It's gone on horse racing."

It was stated that when the brother knew who had had the money he wanted to withdraw the case.

His One Objection

An old man's wife recently died, leaving him in a house with no one to look after him. He soon began "lookin' round" for a second helpmate, and settled on a widow, whose status as a housekeeper for her former spouse was well established. The old man had but one objection to her: she was a M....., and he had been a devout P.....all his life.

"It's all right but for that one thing," he confided to his crony, when they fell to discussing this drawback. "Come weekdays she will be fine, I'm a-thinking. She can keep me tidy, mind the house, and, man, ye know she can cook. But then," and he shook his head doubtfully—"then will come Sunday. We will be starting off to church together, just as husband and wife should be doing on the Sabbath day, and we will come to the corner. Then Mandy, she will be turning to go down the street to that place, and I will go on to the house of God alone!"

Chinese Prepare Fresh Lines in Hunan

Strong Defences Ready Against Advance by Invaders ; Hankow Situation Quiet

Chungking, Oct. 28.

AFTER the Chinese troops have succeeded in evacuating the Wuhan region thereby, as Chinese circles assure, not only escaping a decisive defeat, but also avoiding almost any losses, the main interest is directed to the military operations to be expected in the near future. The Chinese troops occupied the rear defence line prepared a considerable time ago, where they are awaiting a further Japanese offensive.

Chinese military circles expect that the Japanese will concentrate their efforts on Hunan province in order to obtain complete control of the Hankow-Canton Railway. It is believed that the Japanese will advance from Canton on Hankow and in the opposite direction from Hankow on Canton with the important junction Changsha as the main objective, although no troop movements indicating such a plan have yet been reported. A third Japanese column is likewise believed to prepare its advance on Changsha via Nanchang.

The Chinese authorities have taken elaborate precautions to protect Hunan province, called the "heart of China," of which Changsha is the important strategic point. The Chinese high command has transferred its headquarters to Hunan province. It is pointed out that the defence of Hunan is comparatively easy, because the province with its many mountains has strong natural barriers. The place where the Yangtze flows into the Tungting Lake is protected by powerful booms and the strategic points in Hunan are reported to have been strongly fortified.

The retreat accomplished by the Chinese is explained as a strengthening of the defence of Hunan. Retreat operations are being carried out on the northern bank of the Yangtze in the Han Valley where other strong bulwarks are under construction. The mountain range between the Han River and the Peiping-Hankow Railway is likewise reported to have been fortified, so that any Japanese advance will encounter strong resistance.

Increased Japanese activity is expected also in North China, particularly in the direction of Sianfu. The mountainous character of the region would, however, impede the Japanese operations also there. The Chinese guerilla warfare in that region would be intensified so that the Japanese, Chinese circles emphasize, will nowhere find easier conditions.—Trans-Ocean.

Chinese Trapped, Japanese Claim

On the other hand, Japanese reports, claim that Chinese troops retreating southward from the Hankow-Wuchang area, are now trapped. On three sides, they are faced by the Japanese army while on the fourth side is the broad Yangtze up which the Japanese navy is rapidly advancing.

Besides severing the railway at Sienning, Japanese forces cut the line at three other points, at Taolinpu Hoshengchiao and Chiachengpu. Tracks at other points further south have been destroyed by aerial bombardment on the part of Japanese aircraft.

Meanwhile, Japanese columns driving due westward from Macheng, captured the important Chinese city of Hwangan about 55 kilometres west of Macheng, field dispatches reaching here yesterday disclosed.

Mobile Tactics Foreshadowed

Changsha, Oct. 28.

Chinese military authorities declare that with the fall of Hankow and Canton the Chinese command is adopting new military tactics.

They will emphasize nation-wide mobile warfare, engaging the Japanese in all parts of China as they are reportedly now doing in Shansi.—Reuter.

Chinese Snipers Shot

Hankow, Oct. 28.

There was a small incident today when several Chinese soldiers who were caught sniping Japanese were publicly shot on the Japanese Bund. Otherwise all remains quiet and disciplined.

Following the arrival here yesterday of General Inaba, commander of the main body of the Japanese forces marching on Hankow, General Hata, Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese army in Central China, is expected here today, and Vice-Admiral Oikawa, Commander-in-Chief of the China Fleet, very shortly.

Rear-Admiral R. V. Holt, Commander of the British Yangtze Flotilla, called on Rear-Admiral Kondo, Commander of the Japanese Yangtze Fleet, yesterday afternoon, and the call was returned within an hour.

Interviewed by Reuter subsequently, Rear-Admiral Holt declared: "Admiral Kondo appeared pleased with his achievement, but said he was very tired and was spending a quiet day."

"Major questions," Admiral Holt added, "will be discussed when Admiral Oikawa arrives."

It is estimated that 15,000 Japanese soldiers are at present in Hankow. Their behaviour has hitherto been exemplary, and it is hoped that the same discipline will be displayed when the main force arrives.

With the military occupation of Hankow completed, three vital questions now confront the city—lack of water, mail and telegraph communications with the outside world, and refugees.

The Water Problem

The water problem was eased slightly yesterday with the completion of a pipe-line connecting the mains of the ex-British Concession with the river. This resulted in hydrants being mobbed by excited crowds of Chinese with buckets, kettles, etc.

A notice appeared in today's press announcing an emergency water scheme.

The question of communications has been partially answered by a semi-official Japanese source, which states that a Japanese telegraph system will arrive and be installed in two days.

There is no question, however, it is added, of foreigners leaving Hankow by river at least for a fortnight.

Several Chinese have already returned to their homes in the Chinese city, while others have gone to the country, but so far the streets of the ex-Concessions show no signs of emptying.

The reserve force of 110 British bluejackets have left the Consulate compound and returned to their normal billets on Butterfield and Jardine steamers. They still patrol the ex-British Concession.

U.S. Fears China May Go Red

Driven in Communist Arms by Democracies' Failure to Assist in War

Washington, Oct. 27.

The Chinese Central Government soon may be transformed into an avowedly Communist regime because of the absence of extensive aid from democratic nations in China's war against Japanese invasion, diplomatic quarters purporting to be familiar with the intentions of the Chinese Government said here today.

The purpose of this transformation, it was said, was to cement China's ties with the Soviet Union which comprises China's last hope for extensive foreign assistance against Japan.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, it was believed, would be associated with the Communist regime, possibly as its head, since he is believed to be in good favour with the Communists who appreciate his value as a leader of the Chinese people.

Soviet Withheld Aid

Some quarters here believe the Soviet Union in recent months has purposely minimized the amount of Soviet military assistance to China in the hope of eventually forcing the Kuomintang to give way to the Communists. It was believed Moscow's military support of China would increase greatly once the present Chinese Government transforms itself into an admitted Communist regime.

Generalissimo Chiang was reported to have opposed an open alliance with Communism solely under the influence of his wife and other members of the Soong family. The Soongs, it was said, retained faint hopes that a settlement of the Sino-Japanese war might be found as an aftermath of the Munich Agreement. One of the last hopes for the democracies to prevent China from going Red was believed to be the forthcoming meeting between Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British Ambassador to China, and Gen. Chiang.

A serious set-back to China's hopes of obtaining further assistance from the democracies was believed to be the failure of the Chinese Economic Mission now in Washington.—United Press.

Tokyo Goes Wild with Joy Over Victory

Thousands Cheer, Peace Believed in Sight

Tokyo, Oct. 28.

Tokyo went wild with joy today when the officially-sanctioned week-long celebration of the fall of Hankow began. From daybreak innumerable processions of marchers, waving flags and led by bands, converged on the Plaza in front of the Imperial Palace.

Apart from regimented battalions, which an elaborate machinery can pour out whenever occasion demands, thousands upon thousands participated unbidden as a spontaneous expression of joy

An air of undeniable optimism prevailed, for despite official pronouncements describing the fall of Hankow as marking only a new phase in the Sino-Japanese hostilities the general public appear confident that large-scale warfare has already ended and peace, though it may be delayed, is in sight.

The crowds demonstrating at the Plaza in front of the Palace burst into frenzied cheers this morning when the Empress appeared at Nijubashi, or the double bridge linking the Plaza with the Palace.

But enthusiasm reached a point of delirium when the Emperor, mounted on his favourite charger "White Snow," on which he had been taking his daily exercise, appeared on the bridge at 3.05.

Only a few times in the whole history of Japan has a monarch appeared in public for the express purpose of acknowledging the greetings of his subjects, and today marked the first such appearance of the present ruler.—Reuter.

China Will Continue Resistance

C.P.C. Pass Resolution At Chungking Meeting

Chungking, Oct. 28.

The determination of the National Government to continue resistance against Japan was expressed by Mr. Wang Ching-wei, Deputy Leader of the Kuomintang, in a speech at the opening here today of the second session of the National People's Political Council.

Mr. Wang's statement was greeted with thunderous applause by the hundred or so delegates present, including Mr. Lin Sen, Chairman of the National Government; Mr. Sun Fo, President of the Legislative Yuan; Mr. Yu Yu-jen, president of the Control Yuan; Mr. Chu Chen, President of the Judicial Yuan and Mr. Chang Po-ling, Vice-Chairman of the Council.

Considerable importance is attached to the session, which is regarded as marking the beginning of a new chapter in the Sino-Japanese hostilities following the fall of Hankow and Canton.

The meeting today began with the singing of the National Anthem, after which Mr. Wang Ching-wei, the chairman, gave a report on the latest military situation.

Mr. Lin Sen then appealed for a united effort and self-sacrifice.

Foreign Powers Criticized

He declared that friendly foreign countries, although they had given some help, had not performed their duty as members of the League of Nations.

If the danger was not stopped, the aged statesman added, one day disaster would overwhelm the world.

Mr. Lin Sen concluded by asking the nation to achieve rebirth by means of self-help.

A message from General Chiang Kai-shek was next read, apologizing for his absence owing to preoccupation with military affairs.

The Generalissimo urged continued resistance, saying that the present situation was not unexpected and preparations had been made to establish the western provinces as bases for long-term resistance.

The next speaker was Mr. Chang Po-ling, after which Mr. Wang Ching-wei concluded the meeting by reading two telegrams sent by the Council to General Chiang Kai-shek and to the soldiers at the front, expressing loyalty and confidence in them.

Mr. Lin Sen gave a tea party to the delegates later.

The next two days of the session will be devoted to reports of recent progress in political, foreign, military and internal affairs, while the period between November 1 and 6 will be devoted to discussions and conferences

A free and frank talk on the actions of certain ministries is expected, as provided for in the Council's constitution.—Reuter.

Alleged Peace Terms

Peiping, Oct. 28.

Japan is ready to enter into peace negotiations with China, according to sources usually well-informed. The Japanese conditions for commencement of peace negotiations are said to be:

1. That Chiang Kai-shek transfer the leadership of the state to Wang Ching-wei and the premiership to Ho Ying-ching;

2. That close economic co-operation begin between Japan and China;

3. That South China be placed without restriction under the government of Central China, which is to recognize the Japanese interests in North China. On the other hand, Japan undertakes to withdraw her troops from China within six months of the date when an agreement is signed between Japan and China;

4. That for the damage done by the Japanese in China an indemnity be paid; and

5. That the Kuomintang activity be diminished and the whole Communist anti-Japanese attitude be rigorously suppressed. — Trans-Ocean.

Ambassador Not Instructed

London, Oct. 28.

There is no question of Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, the British Ambassador to China, having been instructed to sound General Chiang Kai-shek as regards mediation, Reuter learns on excellent authority.

It is recalled that General Chiang Kai-shek suggested that Sir Archibald see him when he made his tour.

Observers in London do not consider that the fall of Canton and Hankow means the end of Chinese resistance.—Reuter.

Anglo-Italian Pact May Go Into Force Next Month

British Government Anxious to Put Accord Into Operation ; Important Commons Debate Expected

London, Oct. 28.

REPORTS from Rome of the imminent placing into operation of the Anglo-Italian Agreement are considered in certain circles in London as a premature announcement, attempting to force the conclusion of the Agreement.

A Parliamentary debate is still needed before the term "settlement of the Spanish conflict" can be defined. It is stated, however, that the British Government is anxious to conclude the Pact at the earliest possible moment, and that it is, therefore, anxious that when Parliament meets, it will be able to present the most favourable terms for its conclusion.—Reuter.

U.S. Spy Trial Drama Has Exciting Phase

Frantic Search Made for Vital Documents

New York, Oct. 27.

The most involved and sensational spy trial in the United States since the World War developed an atmosphere of theatrical excitement today as the Government announced that important evidence had been stolen only to produce the vital documents after a frantic search in the exhibit room.

Important documental evidence locked in the exhibit room disappeared during the night, the Government claimed. The documents, however, were found after a large force of detectives searched every nook and corner of the exhibit room for several hours.

The evidence consisted of a book of photostatic reproductions, which the British Secret Service had intercepted and turned over to the American Secret Service.

Mr. Lamar Hardy, United States Attorney who is conducting the case for the Government against four alleged spies in the pay of Germany, placed as evidence the photostatic reproductions and other documents seized.

He disclosed that they represented minute technical information regarding experimental army and navy planes and aeroplane factories and bases in the United States.—United Press.

Candidate Supporting Mr. Chamberlain Wins Oxford City By-Election

Mr. Quintin Hogg Defeats Opposition Exponent Over Foreign Policy Issue ; Majority Lowered

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, Oct. 28.

The by-election in Oxford City, held following the death of the Conservative member, Capt. R. C. Bourne, resulted in the Conservative Party retaining the seat, Mr. Quintin Hogg, the Conservative candidate, polling 15,797 votes in a straight fight against his opponent, Mr. A. D. Lindsay, who gained 12,363 votes.

The seat was retained, however, by a far narrower margin than in the previous election, when the Conservative candidate polled 16,306 votes, as against 9,661 in support of his opponent.

Foreign policy was the main issue of the contest.

Support for Mr. Chamberlain

Mr. Hogg, who is the son of Lord Hailsham, pledged his support of Mr. Neville Chamberlain, while Mr. Lindsay, who is actually a member of the Labour Party, but fought as an independent Progressive, fought as the:—

"Representative of men and women of all parties who are profoundly disturbed at the outlook ahead, and at the present Government's policy."

Mr. Lindsay is the Master of Balliol College, Oxford.

Dartford By-Election

The Conservative and Labour candidates in the Dartford Parliamentary by-election were nominated today.

The by-election has been necessitated by the death of the Conservative Member, Mr. F. C. Clarke, whose majority at the last election was 2,646 on a poll of nearly 74,000. Polling at Dartford will be on Monday next.—Wireless and Reuter.

Britain, it is stated here, has agreed to consider Italy's recent withdrawal of 10,000 volunteers from Spain as effecting the required settlement, and to bring the Agreement into force immediately.

Count Ciano is expected to communicate with Signor Mussolini, and to see Lord Perth again before finally approving the scheme.—Reuter.

The accords are expected to be ratified towards the middle of November. Mr. Chamberlain's announcement, however, will be made to open the debate following upon the November 8 Address from the Throne, observers said. Mr. Chamberlain's statement will precede an extensive debate upon Britain's foreign policy, it is understood.

Mr. Chamberlain will shortly make an important public speech, it was stated in informed quarters here today. The address is expected on the occasion of the fifth anniversary dinner to be given by the Foreign Press Association. Present at the banquet will be several Ministers of State, a number of Parliamentarians and leaders in London diplomatic circles. In all, there will be about 500 guests. —Havas.

Japan Protests at Arms Shipments

France Said Supplying China Over Railway From Indo-China

Tokyo, Oct. 28.

The Foreign Office spokesman announced today that Mr. Sugimura, Japanese Ambassador in Paris, has protested to the French Government against the continued transit of arms to China through Indo-China.

It is disclosed that Prince Konoye, the Premier, has invited M. Charles Arsene-Henry, the French Ambassador, to see him today to discuss the matter.

In reply to a question, the spokesman said that if the Japanese occupied Hainan Island it would constitute no violation to the treaty of 1906.

Questioned in regard to the American Note, wherein prompt and effective measures to halt discrimination against American trade and economic enterprises are requested, the spokesman affirmed that Japan would respect the "Open Door" principle. However, he added that the situation created by the "China Incident" would possibly affect Japan's policy, especially in view of military necessity.

He said that actual war is still going on, and intimated that the Government may request a modification of the Nine Power Treaty owing to changed circumstances.—Reuter.

Berlin-Rome-Tokyo Axis To Be Stiffened

Mme. Tabouis Considers Japanese Assertions

Paris, Oct. 28.

Well-informed circles expect a stiffening of the German-Italian-Japanese alliance, Mme. Genevieve Tabouis, diplomatic editor of the leftist organ "L'Œuvre," wrote in that paper today.

"The assurances given by the Japanese Ambassadors in various capitals to the Germans and the Itlians have made a great impression here," she added. "The Japanese Government stated to the Italian and German Governments that they will profit from special treatment in China for their commercial interests. They will not be subjected to the new laws and measures that Japan is going to introduce in the Chinese ports, towns, and provinces which she conquered, to the detriment of the British and American commercial interests."—Havas.

Sandpiper Bombing Not Intentional

Japanese Planes Attacked Chinese Junks

Hankow, Oct. 28.

A denial of the British contention that six Japanese bombers made H.M.S. Sandpiper their objective in a raid on the Changsha area October 24 is contained in a communiqué issued by the Imperial Headquarters.

It presumes that splinters from bombs aimed at Chinese junks, which, it says, were the sole objective of the attack, accidentally hit the Sandpiper.

Moreover, it says, Japanese planes belonging to another unit previously made a reconnaissance flight over the Changsha area and observed no signs indicating there were British gunboats there.—Reuter.

French Premier Attacks Reds

Communist Obstructionist Tactics Over Peace Efforts, Domestic Reforms, Denounced

Marseilles, Oct. 27.

WITHIN a few days, France will be informed of certain measures for public safety already adopted by the Government, the Premier, M. Edouard Daladier, announced this evening at a meeting of the Political Committee of the Radical Socialist Congress now held here. The new measures, he asserted, will demand of all Republicans the adoption of republican reforms. Sacrifices demanded will affect all Frenchmen. M. Daladier stated he was even ready to dissolve the Chamber of Deputies if the lower house did not approve his plan of recovery.

A violent attack on the Communist Party for having considered the Munich Agreement as a betrayal of the cause of peace was delivered by M. Daladier before the Congress this afternoon. The Premier justified the Munich Agreement and rejected the accusations that he was faced with an ultimatum.

"During the European crisis the Communist Party always advocated intransigeance even to the point of going to war," he declared. "The Communist Party revealed its position by its vote in Parliament and by its daily insults throughout the country. The violence and intransigeance of this party paralyzed my action. I wish to say that the political attitude of the Communist Party leaders did not contribute to the support but to the sabotage of the Government's firmness."

The Premier then referred to France's relations with other countries.

"We have maintained peace and dignity in France; we are resolved to persevere," he said. "I believe that as far as one wants to be cautious and just, peaceful settlements can be obtained. Whether it be a matter of her relations with the Reich or Italy, France is convinced that if on both sides the question of the defence of national interest is alone considered, agreements may be obtained which will strengthen peace and bring to it a most useful contribution.

Rapprochement with Reich

"Co-operation between France and England does not exclude any other," he added. "We are open to all possible ententes. When I heard the heart of the German people beat in Munich I could not prevent myself from thinking that between the French and German peoples there are powerful reasons for mutual esteem which should lead to loyal collaboration which I have always strongly wished.

"Whatever be the differences in the political regimes of the two countries which so often were at daggers drawn on the battlefields, they must understand that in the modern era war is not a solution and that by loyal understanding between the two peoples it is possible to settle all problems," the Premier stated.

He concluded in stating that the Munich agreement should be the starting point of a new era.

Domestic Needs

The Premier then referred to the domestic situation in France.

He pointed out that the 1939 budget provided for receipts to total Frs. 66,000,000,000 and expenditures to reach Frs. 102,000,000,000.

To remedy this situation "it is a most imperative necessity that there be an increase in national revenue, and therefore an increase in production and trade exchanges."

In this connection, he attacked Communist propaganda in the social sphere and justified the demand for supplementary working hours.

"By refusing to give the country the work necessary for its salvation, the workers might only bring about bankruptcy and disorder, and raise against them all the forces in the nation," he declared. "We do not intend to repeal the forty-hour working week law but it is indispensable that it be adapted to the exigencies of economic life."

The Premier then announced a series of social measures, which touch notably upon the right to hold strikes by the institution of a secret ballot, and sanctions giving compulsory power in arbitration.

"We will not admit any foreign forces, whatever be their origins and inspirations, to interefere in our national life," M. Daladier declared in conclusion, after another violent attack against the Communists.

Break with Communists

M. Daladier has openly broken with the Communist Party, one of the principal elements in the Popular Front of France, observers declared today commenting upon his speech. The Premier clearly gave his reasons for this attitude.

The Communists manifested total opposition to the Government's peace policy when they voted against the Munich Agreement and when daily they criticized the Government's actions. Communist leaders have campaigned against increased production in French industry even though this is indispensable to the security of the country.

Observers believe that the Radical Socialist Congress here will give full approval to foreign policy enunciated by the Premier and by the Foreign Minister, M. Georges Bonnet.—Havas.

German Press Approves

Berlin, Oct. 28.

The earliest editions of German newspapers today give great prominence to the address delivered at Marseilles by the French Premier, M. Edouard Daladier, who attacked the Communist Party for its attitude towards the Munich Agreement.

"Lokalanzeiger" runs a headline, "Daladier Voices Wish for Entente. Favours Munich Agreement."

"Essener Nazional Zeitung," generally taken to express the views of Marshal Hermann Goering, stresses that M. Daladier severely condemned the Communists in both internal and foreign policy.

"The agitation roused by foreign elements in France against her German and Italian neighbours was for

Germans Cold to Japan Mastery

"Second Manchoukuo" Promise by Japanese Envoy Disappoints

London, Oct. 28.

Business circles in Germany have received with a profound lack of enthusiasm the statement made yesterday, in an interview with the Tokyo correspondent of the "Nueste Nachrichten," by Mr. Toshio Shiratori, the new Japanese Ambassador to Italy, on Japan's attitude towards foreign Powers in the Far East, according to the Berlin correspondent of "The Times" today.

It may be assumed, the correspondent asserts, that Mr. Shiratori's statement, in which he was quoted as saying that German technicians and industries in China would receive preferential treatment, has found equally unenthusiastic reception in those German official circles concerned in an expert capacity with the Far Eastern question.

Interferences Continue

Friendly relations between Japan and Germany, "The Times" correspondent proceeds, have not served to prevent interference with German trade in those parts of China where the Japanese have gained control, and German experience of Japanese methods in Manchoukuo makes the idea of their extension to China, as a whole, something of a nightmare.

There are other more influential circles, however, to which the commercial price of the anti-Comintern Pact may appear to have been worthwhile, the correspondent declares.

Japan's policy has been, and may continue to be, helpful to the Reich in so far as it offers strong inducement to Great Britain and France to come to terms with Germany in Europe.

The solidarity of Europe in the face of the yellow races is a favourite theme in private Nazi circles, "The Times" correspondent concludes, but, apparently, it must await satisfaction of Germany's claims on the Western Powers.

What Envoy Promised

Mr. Shiratori, in his interview, forecast a speedy cessation of the Far Eastern hostilities, but said that the reorganisation of China would take a decade.

He stated that several independent Governments would be established under a common President, in accordance with the example of the United States.

An alliance with Japan to govern China's relations in various spheres was also contemplated, the Japanese Envoy said.

Japan, he continued, had not thought of sharing the fruits of victory with the Western Powers, but their rights would remain unimpaired and financial co-operation would be welcome.

The new China, Mr. Shiratori concluded, was to become a second Manchoukuo.—Reuter.

German Army Testing Czech Defences

Systematic Destruction To Find Value of Lines

Prague, Oct. 27.

The German Army is systematically destroying the former Czech fortifications in the ceded Sudeten regions, reports in the press alleged today.

In carrying out this work, the Reich's forces are engaging in special training exercises, testing both their artillery and aviation at the expense of the defence lines.

Military experts are carefully taking down their observations upon the resistance to bombardment shown by the various materials used in the construction of what was until the beginning of this month Czechoslovakia's "Maginot Line."

Fifty-three bombers tested different types and sizes of missiles on two fortified points at Petrograd, halfway between Prague and Carlsbad, in exercises yesterday, the press reports allege.

Similar tests with heavy guns have been made at Luditz, in the same region, and at Karlsching, near Budweiss in South Bohemia.—Havas.

Hungary Orders Czechs To Evacuate

Objection to Rumania Among Arbitrators

Budapest, Oct. 28.

The Note sent to Prague by the Hungarian Government in answer to Czechoslovakia's latest proposals for a solution of the frontier dispute is understood to re-assert Hungary's demand for a full settlement of the disputes, on the lines laid down in the previous Note.

It is believed the Note stipulates that the Czech troops shall evacuate within the next four or five days the 10,000 square kilometres of territory that Prague has already agreed should be occupied, the Hungarian troops marching in progressively as the Czechs retire.

Objection is raised to the inclusion of Rumania, as suggested by Prague, among the arbitrators on the disputed region of Ruthenia.—Reuter.

British Cabinet Appointments

Lord Privy Seal and Dominions Secretary Posts Still Vacant

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, Oct. 28.

Following a meeting of the Privy Council at Buckingham Palace yesterday, it was announced that Earl Stanhope has been appointed First Lord of the Admiralty, in place of Mr. Alfred Duff-Cooper, who recently resigned.

Earl de la Warr, it was stated, has been appointed President of the Board of Education, in place of Lord Stanhope.

Earl de la Warr's transference to the Board of Education leaves the post of Lord Privy Seal vacant.

Another Cabinet post still vacant is that of the Secretary of State for the Dominions.

Mr. Malcolm McDonald, the Colonial Secretary, who has been working for both the Dominions and the Colonial Office, will continue his dual functions for the time being.

Lord Stanhope had previous experience in the Admiralty as Junior Minister, and Earl de la Warr, prior to his promotion to Cabinet rank, served on the Board of Education as Under-Secretary.

The composition of the Cabinet, from the point of view of the parties supporting the National Government, is unchanged.

No further appointments were announced yesterday afternoon.

It is officially announced here that the King has been pleased to approve the new appointments. His Majesty held a Privy Council yesterday afternoon, at which Lord Stanhope kissed his hands on his appointment as First Lord of the Admiralty.

Experienced Young Men

Lord Stanhope is 57 years of age. He had been at the Board of Education since 1937, and this year was appointed, in addition, Leader of the House of Lords. He entered the Cabinet in 1936 as First Commissioner of Works. Prior to that, he was Under-Secretary at the Foreign Office.

Earl de la Warr is one of two National Labour members of the Cabinet, which he entered as Lord Privy Seal in May last year.

He is 37 years of age, and has been Under-Secretary for the Colonies, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Education, and Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture.

Last year, he represented the Government at the celebration in Sydney of the 150th Anniversary of the first settlement of Australia, and in Lord Halifax's absence he led the British delegation at this year's League assembly.—Reuter.

A packed Lyceum Theatre on Thursday evening thoroughly enjoyed the Russian Light Opera's presentation of Leo Fall's delightful three-act operetta, "The Dollar Princess," which was definitely up to the very high standard now expected from this able troupe. The music and singing were both pleasing and entertaining, while the acting of the entire cast left little to be desired. The producers, to whom all credit is due, had obviously taken great pains to bring the presentation up to a 1938 level, the modern comedy touch interspersed with the musical romantic angle being most effectively done. The costuming and scenery were also large factors in contributing to the success of the show.

As usual Mr. Valin took a large slice of the evening's honours his interpretation of the rich go-ahead American business man with a distinct liking for the nobility, being most vividly performed. His restraint in not overacting, too, was very commendable.

Miss Orlovskaya, in the role of Alice, his daughter, was her customary capable self, her singing, dancing and acting being first rate. On her latest performance she has obviously improved her technique since last season and can confidently look forward to gaining high honours during the coming winter months. Miss Poliakova, making her first appearance for this season also put in an excellent performance and she, too, can expect to find a large crowd of followers. Messrs. Slobodskoy and Koudinoff sang beautifully, their scores being encored time after time by the audience, and it would not be doing either of them justice if it were not mentioned that their delightful songs captured the imagination of all present. Mr. Koudinoff, in particular, created a very favourable impression, his power, range and ability to sustain difficult passages, being most impressive. Both should, if possible, be included in all future casts, for as a team, they combine exceptionally well.

Mr. Tomsky and Miss Nevskaya were responsible for plenty of humorous situations and the lady with her unpronounceable stage name caused guffaw after guffaw of laughter when Mr. Valin attempted to introduce her to his various friends. Miss Virgina, in the third act, gave a splendid piece of characterization that was quite the best she has yet attempted.

A word, too, for Miss Manjelei and Mr. Seroff, whose "Tango and Rhumba" in the second act were finely carried out. They are artistes of a high calibre and well deserved the encores that fell to them.

A thoroughly well-balanced show that will be enjoyed by all who attend. "The Dollar Princess" is being repeated tonight and tomorrow at 8.30 p.m.—A.B.C.

Patriotic Postage Stamps for Japan

Tokyo, Oct. 28.

Commemorating the occupation of the Wuhan cities by Japanese forces, one million "patriotic postage stamps" will be put on sale by the Ministry of Communications. Souvenir postcards will be given by the Japan Aviation Society to purchasers of the stamps. On one side of the cards is a picture of a giant aeroplane built recently by the Imperial University's Aeronautical Research Institute. The plane has completed a trial flight successfully.—Domei.

Rome Hails Anti-Red Move

Rome, Oct. 27.

A lively interest was shown here this evening in the address in Marseilles by the French Premier, M. Edouard Daladier, who made a violent attack upon the Communist Party. Observers termed the speech courageous and frank.

Especial comment was devoted to M. Daladier's declarations upon the significance of the results of the Munich Agreement.

Statements on the Communists' attitude during the crisis are also considered indicative of the evolution of France's internal policy.—Havas.

French Press Divided

Paris, Oct. 28.

The majority of the rightist and centrist press here praised the strong speech made by the Premier, M. Edouard Daladier, at the Radical-Socialist Party Congress in Marseilles yesterday, although some rightist, radical and leftist papers criticized his violent attack against the Communists.

"The Radical-Socialist Party Congress made an effective rupture of the Popular Front," said "Le Journal."

"Le Figaro" stressed that M. Daladier should be praised for his speech and emphasized that it was "the voice of the Government."

"One fact that remains," says "Le Petit Parisien," is that "the Munich peace put an end to the twenty-year crisis."

"Le Populaire," official organ of the Socialist Party, criticized the address. "We expected a plan of action, but M. Daladier spoke hazily. The Premier's position shocked certain sections of the Congress and several Radical-Socialist heads disapproved of his attitude."

"L'Ordre" stressed that "the anti-Communistic tone of the speech cannot hide the defects of the Munich settlement and the deficiencies of the Government's recovery plan."—Havas.

Chinese Prepare Fresh Lines in Hunan

A few fires are still raging. An observation balloon was seen over Wuchang yesterday.

Traders Follow Troops

Following closely on the heels of the troops, Japanese business is already making its appearance here. A representative of a typewriter firm is soliciting orders and 2,000 cases of Kirin beer have been unloaded and are selling at 18 cents a bottle.

The Japanese Consul-General, Mr. Hanawa, who arrived yesterday afternoon, will possibly use the Kincheng Bank as a temporary office. He called on the French Consul-General today.

Ninety Japanese journalists are now in Hankow, some planning to push forward with the troops, while others remain here.

Semi-official Japanese sources state that the Wuhan area will come under the Nanking régime, and also that the Japanese Government will inaugurate a Federal Government over all of China, with a capital at Peiping.

It is understood that refugees are removing shortly to the new zone near the Han River, where policing will be done by the Japanese gendarmerie, with the understanding that no Japanese soldiers are to be admitted.

The situation in the concessions is most quiet, with foreign naval ratings and civilian volunteers continuing their patrols in pouring rain.

British Bluejackets Withdrawn

British bluejackets, foreign special police and Chinese police, who have been doing patrol duty since the evacuation of the Chinese, will be withdrawn from the ex-British Concession at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning as the result of a meeting today between representatives of the Japanese army, navy and gendarmerie and authorities of the ex-Concession. They will be replaced by Japanese gendarmes.

British property has been guaranteed as well as the safety of the Chinese police. The step has been taken without prejudice to further discussions on British rights under the Chen-O'Malley Agreement.

Over 1,000 refugees were evicted today from the premises of an Italian restaurant in the ex-German Concession by Japanese troops, who required the building for billets. The refugees presented a pitiful sight, emerging with their bedding and very scanty belongings into the pouring rain.

Reuter's correspondent this afternoon visited the Yee Tsoong Tabacco Company's factory at Chiaokow, five from the city near the Han River.

The factory was untouched, while the waterworks near by appeared undamaged, but a broadcasting station en route to Chiaokow was completely demolished.

The countryside was deserted except for occasional parties of Japanese soldiers collecting food and vegetables from the fields.

Foreigners in Hankow who have no means of communicating with their families and relations have requested Reuter to reiterate that foreign lives and property are safe.—Reuter.

Big Economic Loss For China

Canton and Hankow's Fall Means Huge Reduction in Government's Revenue

Tokyo, Oct. 28.

Colossal economic losses have been sustained by the Chiang Kai-shek régime as a result of the fall of Hankow and Canton, the "Asahi Shimbun" declared in an editorial today.

With the capture by Japan of these two important ports, the paper declared, exports from the area under the control of the Chiang régime are not expected to exceed the sum of $90,000,000 annually, which represents only 12 per cent. of the total exports aggregating $706,000,000 in 1936.

The import trade of the Chiang régime likewise will be reduced to a negligible amount with the Customs revenue dwindling to about $20,000,000 annually after the loss of Canton and Hankow.

This amount, the paper went on, represents only 6 per cent. of the total Customs revenue of $342,000,000 in 1937.

Moreover, the "Asahi" continued, products amounting in value to $30,000,000 from Szechuen province, and about $70,000,000 worth of goods from Hupeh and Hunan provinces will find no outgoing routes with Hankow in Japanese hands.

The export trade of South China under the Chiang Kai-shek régime totalled $135,000,000 in 1936, $226,000,000 in 1937, and $113,000,000 from January to August in 1938, the paper claimed. Of these amounts, between 53 and 60 per cent. passed through the Customs of Amoy, Canton, Lappa and Samshui, all of which are now occupied by Japan, the paper stated.

Therefore, the Chiang Kai-shek régime now loses all of its export trade which previously passed through those South China ports, the paper stated.—Domei.

Foreign Powers Warned

Tokyo, Oct. 28.

Further warnings that failure to co-operate with Japan by the Powers might be detrimental to their interests in China was contained in the morning papers today.

The "Miyako Shimbun" states that Powers which have been helping General Chiang Kai-shek "may now be regretful about their miscalculation.

"If the various Powers should hesitate to recognize the projected new Central Government of China, we fear that their interests there might strike a hitch," the paper adds.

The "Nichi Nichi Shimbun" states:—"If Mr. Chamberlain wants to strengthen his realistic foreign policy, Britain must modify her attitude towards China.

"This is the only way in which Britain can maintain her interests in East Asia."

The "Yomiuri Shimbun" declares:—"In view of the fact that public opinion in Great Britain has undergone a change, we can easily foresee the direction of Mr. Chamberlain's so-called foreign policy."

The "Yomiuri Shimbun" counsels the people not to minimize General Chiang Kai-shek's resistance.

"We must not be too optimistic, nor intoxicated with victory," the paper declares.

The "Hochi Shimbun," which takes a more optimistic view, says that the fall of Hankow means the collapse of the Chiang Kai-shek régime.

It is of the opinion that the "time has come to construct a new order in East Asia, based on the projected anti-Comintern Axis between Japan, China and Manchoukuo."

The "Chugai Shimbun" predicts that, with the fall of Hankow, the Communists will overpower the Kuomintang, "and heneceforth Soviet assistance will be directed positively towards the Communist Party."

Japan's Reply

The "Asahi Shimbun" understands that the Premier and Foreign Minister, Prince Konoye, will shortly send a reply to Mr. Joseph Grew, the American Ambassador.

The newspaper points out that the new Far Eastern situation, "arising from the degeneration of the Chiang Kai-shek administration and the birth of a new régime in China, has actually modified the Far Eastern peace fabric based on the Nine Power Pact, though the Japanese Government will fully respect the vested rights of third Powers in China."

Therefore, the "Asahi" adds, the American contention for the maintenance of the principles of the Open Door and equal opportunity in China, based on the old peace fabric under the Nine Power Pact, does not conform with the actual situation in the Far East.

The journal surmises that in the forthcoming reply to Mr. Grew the Japanese Premier will endeavour to induce the United States to understand the actual situation in the Far East and also clarify Japan's real intentions regarding current China affairs.—Reuter.

Shooting Affray on Avenue Foch

Eight Shots Fired But No Injuries

Enquiries made at various hospitals in the town last night by members of the French Police failed to establish a motive for a shooting affair, which sent pedestrians scampering for safety on Avenue Foch at about 6 p.m. and, at a late hour, it was reported that as far as could be ascertained no one had been injured.

The shooting occurred during a heavy downpour, but on the streets was the usual heavy evening traffic and this probably accounted for the escape of all persons concerned.

The facts, as reported to the police, were that several shots were fired on Avenue Foch, about 150 yards east of Route des Soeurs, between numbers 471 and 425. It is believed that they were aimed at the occupant of a private car which was standing in the vicinity, on the French side of the road, and after the shooting eight Mauser cartridge cases were picked up by the police.

During the shooting one bullet smashed a window of a shop on Avenue Foch, near Chengtu Road, but no one was hit during the affray. Enquiries at various houses in the area proved that there had been no attempts at armed robbery and it is thought that political motives were behind the occurrence. The French Police were continuing their investigations at a late hour last night.

More Sensations In Spy Trial

Rumrich Insists He Spied for Reich to Aid U.S. Officials

New York, Oct. 26.

Government witnesess today thrilled those who packed the courtroom listening to testimony relating to the intricate system of alleged German spies in the United States.

With Guenther Rumrich, self-confessed spy, having completed his testimony in the greatest spy trial in U. S. history since the World War, the Government sought other important witnesses to prove conclusively that the four defendants beyond a shadow of a doubt were responsible for espionage against the United States.

Rumrich, first of the arrested persons in the spy hunt, a former deserter from the United States Army and who turned State's evidence on pleading guilty last week, concluded his incriminating testimony.

He insisted that he had only acted as a German spy to obtain information regarding the German service for the United States Government.

Customs Guards' Testimony

Mr. Morris Josephs, a Customs guard, testified that he had seen Karl Schlueter, German seaman of the liner Europa and whom Rumrich alleged to be the "pay-off man" of the spies, on a New York pier in 1935.

He said that he had seen Schlueter talking with William Lonkowski. On searching Lonkowski, he found plans of an army Curtiss plane, he said, and a letter linking a Monticello, N.Y., army captain with the spy ring, and many papers, many so confidential that the prosecution merely showed them to the jury instead of reading them.

Lonkowski, who is in Germany at present, is alleged to be one of the most daring and shrewdest of spies.

The Government for the first time introduced its "mystery witness," a liquor store operator by name of Miss Senta Dewanger.

Storekeeper's Story

Miss Dewanger was originally responsible for supplying evidence linking Otto Hermann Voss, an aeroplane mechanic arrested at the Seversky plant in Farmingdale, Long Island, with the German espionage service.

She testified that Lonkowski in 1935 often accompanied Voss and both visited her store carrying a small package.

Lonkowski seemed always to be well supplied with money. Once, Lonkowski's wife, who appeared to have been drinking too much, said, "Germany pays for this," as she bought some liquor, Miss Dewanger said.

Miss Dewanger said that once, on behalf of Lonkowski, she delivered a package to Schlueter on board the Europa.

Lonkowski was furious on learning that she had left the package with the purser instead of delivering it personally to Schlueter, she said.

Voss is one of the four defendants. The other two are Miss Johanna Hofmann, hairdresser on board the Europa and Erich Glaser, former private in the U.S. air corps.—United Press.

German Expert Urges People to Save

Inexhaustible Capital Reserves Required

Berlin, Oct. 28.

The necessity of constituting a reserve of capital in Germany was stressed here today by Herr Brinkman, Under-Secretary of State for Economics, speaking at a congress of savings societies.

"Today, the idea of savings must be understood in a larger sense," he said. "If Germany's future is to be founded on solid bases, one must not neglect the formation of capital by savings. Since 1933, the savings of the German people have increased constantly. The annexation of Austria and the Sudeten regions will necessitate new capital. The German people must save an inexhaustible capital."—Havas.

Pearl River Mines Cleared Up

Working hand-in-hand with army units on the river, the Japanese naval force operating on the Pearl River has made rapid progress in clearing out the countless mines laid by the Chinese and re-establishing various landmarks on the river, the Naval Section of Imperial General Headquarters announced in an official communiqué issued at Tokyo on Friday.

Under cover of an aerial bombardment, the communiqué also said, the naval force also assisted units of the Naval Landing Party of capture Lienfa, on Tuesday, and Aitangtou, where a company of Chinese soldiers launched a counter-offensive, but were repulsed leaving 20 dead.

Japanese naval units, it was added, are steaming upriver unmolested.

Japanese naval aircraft, the communiqué revealed, were active in South China and bombed Chinese positions at Yungyun, Yintak, Weichow and Lukfung.

The planes, it was added, bombed and inflicted heavy damages to seven Chinese torpedo boats at Mawei, ten kilometres north of Samshui, on Wednesday, and two more at Suichiang, 14-kilometres north of Samshui on Thursday. The communiqué added that the air force is co-operating with the land forces.

Rome-Berlin Axis to Compromise

Germany Opposes Magyar Claims to Ruthenia

Rome, Oct. 28.

According to well-informed circles, Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, the German Foreign Minister, arrived here with fresh proposals yesterday.

Nazi and Government circles here believe that the proposals provide for German and Italian arbitration in the Czech-Hungarian problem, which Prague and Budapest also seem to desire.

The German and Italian statesmen will examine all important international questions affecting the two countries.

In the Hungaro-Czech problem, it is believed here that the only solution is a compromise since Berlin would oppose an annexation of Ruthenia by Hungary.—Havas.

League Secretariat Split Revealed

Difference on Munich Pact and Reforms

Geneva, Oct. 28.

M. Marcel Hoden, Chef du Cabinet of the League of Nations Secretariat since the appointment, in July, 1933, of M. Joseph Avenol as Secreary-General, has resigned his post at the request of M. Avenol.

This step, it is believed heralds a further "purge" of those League of Nations officials who hold Leftist views and who do not confirm M. Avenol's advocacy of reform of the League Covenant.

M. Avenol is a strong adherent of the Munich Agreement and is credited with being in sympathy with those circles in London and Paris, who are seeking to reform the Covenant in the sense desired by totalitarian Powers.

This attiude has caused a rift between M. Avenol and M. Hoden, and the split in the League Secretariat, based on their respective alignments, is likely to result in the retirement of those of M. Hoden's way of thinking.—Reuter.

British Civilian Evacuation Plan

Recommendations By Parliamentary Body Being Carried Out

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, Oct. 28.

Compulsory wholesale evacuation of the civilian population in time of war would be enforced in limited areas in Great Britain liable to intensive bombardment or for other reasons rendered uninhabitable.

This decision was taken by the Committee, comprising four members of the House of Commons, appointed to consider schemes for the evacuation of the civilian population in time of war from London, and other big centres. Sir John Anderson presided over the Committee.

Transport facilities, it is stated, appear to be adequate, and main line railways, and the London Passenger Transport Board, have informed the Committee that with their combined resources they could remove 100,000 persons per hour from London.

The Committee considers that the scheme for the whole country could be organized in the course of a few months.

Recommendations Accepted

A memorandum by Sir Samuel Hoare, the Home Secretary, covering the report of the Committee's recommendations, and action has already been taken both in the light of the recommendations, and of the experience gained during the recent crisis to examine and prepare in detail evacuation schemes.

In approving the recommendations of the Committee, the Government, in particular, express their concurrence in the following principles:—

First, that, except insofar as it may be necessary for military or other special reasons to require persons to leave some limited area, evacuation should not be compulsory;

Secondly, that for the purpose of supporting a national war effort and supplying the general needs of the civilian population, production in the large industrial towns must be maintained, but it is desirable to provide organized facilities for the evacuation of substantial numbers of people from certain industrial areas;

Thirdly, that arrangements for the reception of persons who are homeless should be mainly on the basis of accommodation in private houses, under the powers of compulsory billeting.

Detailed Preparations

These arrangements, it is stated, will require very detailed preparation to avoid unnecessary hardship, either to refugees, or to persons who receive them.

Fourthly, that the initial cost of evacuation arrangements should be borne by the Government, but that refugees who can afford to contribute towards the cost of their maintenance should be expected to do so; and Fifthly, that to meet the needs of parents who wish to send their children away, but cannot make their own arrangements, special arrangements should be made for school children to move out in groups from their schools, in charge of their teachers. —Reuter.

Military Pageant at St. Paul's Cathedral

The old colours of the 2nd Battalion The Grenadier Guards were laid up in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, when establishing an ancient privilege the battalion marched through the City with fixed bayonets, colours flying and drums beating. Picture shows the colour bearers with their new colours coming down the west steps of St. Paul's after the service.

Fall of Hankow Celebrated

Usual Balloon, Dozens Of "Rising Sun" Flags In Evidence Yesterday

Japanese flags flew from flag-poles and were waved in the air and from motor cars yesterday as the Shanghai Japanese community celebrated the fall of Hankow to Japanese troops in the early part of the week. The somewhat heavy rain of the afternoon dampened the enthusiasm to be abroad slightly.

Once again a pale yellow balloon floated over the Japanese consulate, hoisting aloft a small "Rising Sun" flag and characters heralding the capture of the city. By a coincidence, celebration of another victory, the March on Rome, brought out the flags and bunting on "Battleship Row," off the Bund, and to some Chinese it may have looked as if the foreign warships were forsaking their neutral status to join in the Japanese celebrations.

All Japanese banks and business houses carried large "Rising Sun" flags crossed over the door-way, while flags of all sizes fluttered from bicycles, rickshaws and motor-cars.

New Jardine Coaster Expected From South

Capt. S. Schofield Is in Command of the Esang

The Esang, one of the four new coasters purchased on April 5 in Hongkong by the I.-C.S.N. Co. from the British Boxer Indemnity Commission, is on her way here from South China, on her first voyage on the company's coastal service.

Built in 1934 by Messrs. Barclay, Curle and Company of Glasgow, she is 3,415 tons gross, has two decks and 22 in., 36 in., and 60 in. stroke engines. According to latest advices, she called at Swatow on Thursday morning and should berth at the Roosevelt Terminal Wharf on Monday morning.

Further Remand in Murder Case

Charged with the murder of his wife, Dalip Singh, an Indian private watchman, appeared before Mr. I. T. Morris, Acting Registrar at H.M. Court yesterday morning and was remanded until Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Mr. H. A. Reeks, representing accused, applied for the remand on the grounds that he had received his instructions on the previous day and he would require further time in which to present his case. Mr. P. Watkin Williams appeared for the prosecution.

The woman, Charan Kaur, aged 22, was found lying dead in a creek off Hungjao Road on Sept. 30. The body was contained in a sack and was tied with canvas string. Dalip Singh, whose home is at 297 Hungjao Road, supplied the police with the information that a body was floating in the creek and he was arrested some days later.

Welfare Work For Local Rickshaw Pullers

P.M.A.A. Reports Deficit On Last Year's Work

A deficit of $37,316 was reported at the annual meeting of the Pullers' Mutual Aid Association which was held on Thursday, one of the reasons contributing to the increase in the deficit being the fact that local hostilities last year had cost the Association over $1,588 in the Chapei centre and $641 in the Nantao centre when all the office furniture and equipment in these two places were destroyed as a result of the fighting.

Dr. D. S. Chen was elected Chairman and Mr. P. W. Massey presented the financial statement. Attending the meeting were three trustees, and nine newly elected members of the board of management. Mr. Massey, a pioneer of the rickshaw welfare movement was elected chairman of the trustees for the ensuing year.

The meeting discussed the question of negotiating with the Shanghai Municipal Council to recover the normal grant of $1.50. During the discussion it was stated that the Council had made no contribution to the Association in September and October last and only one-third (fifty cents per rickshaw) had been paid in November. Two-thirds (one dollar per rickshaw) it was stated, had been paid after December 1937.

The balance sheet showed that $500 had been advanced to rickshaw pullers for petty trade while the S.M.C. grant in respect of rickshaw licences had been $94,758.50. Expenditure had included $9,872.92 for salaries and wages, $7,689.29 for rice, $9,432.85 funeral expenses, and $456.22 for tea urns. For relief work the salaries and wages had been $4,992.60 and for educational work, $6,487.39.

A total of $60,375,31 had been expended on clinics, hospitalization, medical supplies and hospital food, while depreciation on furniture and equipment was $3,120.91. The accounts were passed.

S.M.P. Hold Parade Practice in Rain

Uniformed and Detective Units at Race Course

In the drenching rain, early yesterday afternoon, the Shanghai Municipal Police (including Gaol Staff) and the S.M.P. Specials held their final rehearsal, at the Race Course Ground, of the Inspection and Presentation of Medals which will take place there at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The rehearsal got under way at about 1.40 p.m., and lasted about an hour. The procession was led by Sigh troopers, and the Police Band had a prominent part in the display. Despite the dull skies, the "Red Marias" lent colour to the long line that filed past Major K. M. Bourne, Commissioner of Police, and other officials.

Members of the Detective Branch of the Police, clad in steel waistcoats, rode in the procession in vans and motor-cars.

The "dress rehearsal" had originally been set for last Wednesday, but was postponed because of rain.

Armed Men Rob House In Wuting Road

A gang of five Chinese, carrying three pistols, intimidated the occupants of 260 Wuting Road at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and made them hand over a large amount of money and jewellery. The total value of the loot was about $350. No shots were fired, and the robbers escaped.

THE Caroline Medical Institute in Stockholm decided on Thursday that no Nobel Prize for medicine would be awarded this year.

London Exhibition of Junks Opened

"Something Indomitable About These Junks"—Mr. Quo

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, Oct. 28.

At the opening of the exhibition of Chinese junks at the South Kensington Science Museum yesterday, Mr. Quo Tai-chi, the Chinese Ambassador in London, declared that, as a Chinese, he felt very happy that the models were there as a token of the mutual interests and close ties of friendship between Great Britain and China.

"Also, I think there is something indomitable about these junks, and I am glad to assure you that there is something indomitable about China," said Mr. Quo, amid loud applause.

The Ambassador paid a special tribute to Sir Frederick Maze, Inspector-General of Chinese Customs, who presented the junks to the Science Museum over a number of years. Sir Frederick, Mr. Quo stated, had rendered China an invaluable service not only as a civil servant but as a public-spirited individual.

Mr. Quo dwelt on the skill of the Chinese junk builders, and the accuracy of the models on show. Like Brixham trawlers and Thames luggers, he declared, they stood for skilled individuality of construction, and individual personality of operation.

The collection of junks which was opened by Mr. Quo is entirely unique. Each vessel is built exactly to scale, and is perfect in every detail. There are altogether ten models the largest a magnificent sea-going Foochow junk ten feet three inches long and fully eleven feet high to the tip of the tallest sail. The smallest craft is a Hongkong harbour sampan.—Reuter.

Local Czechs Observe National Day

Receptions Held at the Legation and Circle

The local Czechoslovakian community observed yesterday their National day, the twentieth anniversary of the proclamation of independence of the Czechoslovak state, made by the National Committee at Prague on October 28, 1918. The announcement was made following the capitulation of Austria-Hungary and marked the liberation of the State from Hapsburg rule. Two days after the declaration, the Slovak National Council pronounced Slovakia's adherence to the declaration and the State of Czechoslovakia regained its independence which was lost in the White Mountain battle in 1620.

The recent European crisis whose full brunt was borne by the country, reflected particular significance on yesterday's Czechoslovakia's National Day and added to the solemnity of the occasion.

A reception was held yesterday afternoon at the Czechoslovak Legation at 727 Avenue Haig, at which most of the members of the local Czechoslovak community attended, while the committee of the Czechoslovak Circle were "at home" in the later part of the afternoon, at 372 Rue Bourgeat.

S.R.C. Autumn Regatta Plans

Oarsmen Will Vie for Honours on Whangpoo Finishing At Holts Wharf ; Good Muster Despite Disabilities

OARSMEN have been very active on the river during the past month in completing their training for the Shanghai Rowing Club Autumn Regatta which is to take place on Sunday, November 6. Due to the political situation, Henli, Shanghai's counterpart of the English Henley, will not be available, but the local oarsmen have made the best of the conditions prevailing and the regatta will take place on the Whangpoo with the finishes of races at Holt's Wharf.

The Spring regatta of this year took place off the Public Gardens, and while the function was an undoubted success, the extraordinarily heavy launch traffic at this point made it difficult for oarsmen, and for this reason, it was decided to take the venue to a quieter part of the river, the co-operation of Messrs. Alfred Holt & Company, enabling the public to witness the races from Holt's Wharf.

Arrangements are now being completed to ensure spectators every facility to make the trip downriver to watch the regatta and it is expected that the racing will be watched with every comfort from the Wharf.

Arrangement for Races

The regatta will start at 10 a.m., and races will be run from a position below Holt's wharf to have the finishes at the Wharf where the spectators will have the best opportunity to watch the final phases of each contest.

There will be ten races during the day, six to be held in the morning, and four in the afternoon, with a tiffin interval of one hour. Catering arrangements are such that a buffet tiffin will be available at the Club's marquee which is to be erected on the Wharf.

The four races to be held in the afternoon are expected to be completed by 3 p.m. and transport facilities will be available to bring spectators and contestants back to the Bund at an early hour.

Launches will be available, running a service from the Custom's Jetty from 9 a.m. and taking competitors and spectators down to the Regatta, and after the function, similar means of conveyance will bring them back again.

As this coming Sunday is the last full day's training for crews, the early mornings, tiffin hours and evenings, only being available thereafter until the regatta, all crews are asked to turn out at the Club house on Sunday morning to complete their entries. There are several crews, particularly the Junior, Junior-Senior and Seniors who are in training, but who have not made their entries and these should do so by Sunday morning.

Internationals Featured

The International Races will again be featured, this season's racing bringing about competition in the Eights between only England and Scotland, with a possibility of the World also taking part. America trained for the earlier part of the season in the eights, but were finally unable to muster a full crew and are confining their efforts to competition in the fours. England has a very young crew and it will be a decided feather in their cap if they are able to defeat the Scots, the latter including similarly a young majority, but these have two veteran oarsmen in G. G. Forrestier and L. D. M. Beattie to steady them up, and they are therefore favoured to win. England will be represented by: R. A. O. Mayne, G. McLorn, H. Farmer, J. R. M. Warner, H. C. F. Aris, G. H. Blatchford, R. A. Dodd and W. K. Corneck, while the Scots have: G. G. Forrestier, L. D. M. Beattie, H. A. Calder, J. L. Youngman, C. E. Ross, C. Hodgman, R. Corbett, B. H. McMichael.

The World had started training with a very good crew, composed of a joint strength of Norwegians and Germans. A Sevald, O. Jurany, H. Marcus, A. Ulbricht, O. Rommelfanger, F. Istl, K. Lund, and J. Azadian making up the eight, but owing to Lund's transfer to other parts, the crew was broken up. It is understood that N. P. Ivanoff will be asked to make up the eight again and with his strengthening, the World may have a very fair chance of winning.

Interesting Fours

In the Fours, England will be represented by R. A. O. Mayne, G. McLorn, H. Farmer and J. R. M. Warner, and the crew has been rowing very well. G. McLorn was unable to maintain his training with the English crew, as he had to make the trip to Tientsin with the interport crew, but he is very fit and rowing well, so that he will be a decided strengthening to the eight and to the four. The Scots will in all probability be represented by G. G. Forrestier, L. D. M. Beattie, H. A. Calder and B. H. McMichael, and here again it is expected some good rowing will be seen. The Scots have been all too long in regaining rowing laurels won in previous years and there is a decidedly good chance of their bringing off the double event in the eights and fours this year.

A late entry in the fours has been the American crew, made up only after the inability of the Americans to float a full eight. The four is particularly strong, and while they have had less training together in a four, they have a considerable weight advantage over the other crews and this, together with the outstandingly good stroke they have should bring them through well to the fore. They will be represented by: J. Brockett, S. F. Jensen, R. E. Perkins and E. G. Davis.

Griffins Well Represented

Two crews have entered for the griffin fours, both having done a fair amount of training, with the result that there is little to choose between them as to the winner. They are: F. Holmes, E. A. Fabian, F. W. Dunhill, G. Harrison; and E. J. A. Guertz, J. C. Filman, W. P. Sim, J. Larsen. These crews have split up into four pairs for the griffin pairs and similar to the fours, there is very little to pick out one from the other as being outstanding.

Entries in the junior fours are fairly good, a boat from the Scottish eight, a bow crew from the English eight, and the American trial four being the competitors. Here the Americans are favoured to win, but the others are very fit and may be able to whip up a fast rate of striking to bring off the victory.

The Hong Fours produce entries from Jardine Matheson & Co., who have R. A. O. Mayne, R. Corbett, B. H. McMichael and W. K. Corneck, while their opponents are the Yee Tsoong Tobacco Co., represented by Y. J. Turner, E. P. Morphew, C. Hodgman and J. R. M. Warner. It is understood the Shanghai Power Company may enter a crew, and also possibly an S.M.C. entry may complete the list.

There is a dearth of entries in the S.V.C. Fours, the Armoured Car Company being the only unit to muster a crew. Similarly in the Senior fours only one crew has signified its entry, but there is a prospect of another coming forward. The present entry is: A. Thoresen, F. R. L. Carey, N. P. Ivanoff and W. Neugebauer.

Handicap Racing Today at S.R.C.

Merry Memories Expected To Win Steeplechase and General Forecast Made

Today's race card is made up with handicap races only both on the flat and over the steeplechase course.

The Handicapper has had five days racing this season to guide him in apportioning weights and reclassifying the different ponies. In this latter connection he certainly would seem to have galloped roughshod over the official classification list of ponies issued two months ago to govern this season's class racing. So much so, that today a 1st class pony can compete in the "C" class race with 7 lb. allowance, and in the "D" class race a 1st class pony gets in with 5 lb. allowance, and a 2nd class one with 14 lb. allowance, against these two higher class ponies, a 3rd class one is there with 4 lb. penalty.

His reclassification of the ponies to make up the four races shows; the "A" class is made up of 1st class ponies as it should be; the "B" class has six 1st class ponies, and nine 2nd class ones in it; the "C" class includes three 1st class, ten 2nd class and one 3rd class in it; whilst in the "D" class will be found one 1st class, seven 2nd class and seven 3rd class ones. It is all ntost interesting and has given the railbirds lots to talk about. How it will all pan out remains to be seen, but one thing is sure: some excellent racing will be seen with nothing in any one of the races standing out as a sure winner, making it a difficult proposition to forecast correctly.

The Steeplechase

The Steeplechase being twice round may try the stamina of some of the starters, but I think H. W. Keep on Merry Memories should be able to stick it out, as also will John Sparke on White Major, and this is the order in which the race may finish.

The "A" class open to all ponies at 1¼ mile must prove a good race, for here the handicapper has done some good work, making it easy to point to at least eight to ten of the likely starters, that at handicap weights, would seem to have an equal chance of winning. White Parade and Merry Jester each get 4 lb. penalty putting them top weights. Gold Vase follows with 2 lb. penalty. Amongst the ones with weight off, Felixstowe with 6 lb. and Roehampton 5 lb., look dangerous, as some think Night Express with 9 lb. down and The Swan with 8 lb. down, both must be. Then Mou Tan Hua on his last week's running must be in the picture with his 4 lb. allowance.

Forecast Made

I could run through most of the race in the same way, but I will be content in giving the following as my forecast to win, and hope some may prove to be correct:—

1st Race:—Merry Memories, White Major.
2nd Race:—Goldenray, The New China.
3rd Race:—Duke of Cornwall, Don Patricio.
4th Race:—Rye, Cordon Bleu.
5th Race:—Raibais, Brave Raider.
6th Race:—Corps Cavalry, Un Un Un.
7th Race:—Gold Vase, Roehampton.
8th Race:—Bombardment, Bleu Boy.
9th Race:—Morning Glory, Smart Morn.
10th Race:—Dah Wu Dai, Pai Yu Shuang.

Shanghai Wins Last Match at Colony

On Thursday afternoon the Shanghai Interport Lawn Bowls team, represented by H. Wallace (skip), A. M. Gutierrez, W. J. MacDermott and K. L. Swartzell, defeated Tiakoo and Hongkong Electric by 21 shots to 15. This was the final match of the visit.

The visitors sailed for Shanghai on the 'Wingsang' on Thursday evening and are due here on Monday next.

Shelaeff Awaiting Gong in U.S.

His Ring Career Depends On Result of American Debut ; Fasano Confident

San Francisco, Oct. 27.

Andre Shelaeff, welterweight champion of the Orient, and Johnny Fasano, "King of the Club Fighters," met today in the offices of the California Boxing Commission in this city to weigh in for their fight tomorrow night at the Dreamland Auditorium.

Shelaeff, who will make his American debut in the fight, weighed 141, while Fasano tipped the beam at 146.

Neither Shelaeff nor his manager, ponderous Heinrich Seelig, had any predictions to make about the fight. Fasano, however, told the United Press that he expected to have little difficulty in winning, basing his contentions on the fact that he has had eight years of fighting against the toughest boys in this city while Shelaeff is just an "18 year old kid from Shanghai, where he couldn't have met anybody that is any good."

Seelig, Paddy Ryan and Freddie Apostoli, world's number one middleweight contender, will be in Shelaeff's corner. Fasano's seconds are not known.—United Press.

Jackie Berg Defeats Joey Greb

New York, Oct. 26.

Jackie "Kid" Berg, star London welter now engaged upon a suprisingly successful comeback after two years of comparative oblivion, took an easy decision from Joey Greb of Herkimer, N.Y., at the Coliseum tonight before a large crowd.

Furious exchanges, with Berg getting the better of the battling throughout the eight rounds, marked the contest.

Berg weighed 147½, while Greb tipped the beam at 145¼.—United Press.

Hardcourt Tennis Arrangements

Rain Likely to Cancel Matches Scheduled for This Afternoon

Inclement weather may prevent the opening of the annual hardcourt open championships sponsored by the Cercle Sportif Francais which is to begin today.

Attracting a record number of entries for the men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles and doubles, and mixed doubles, the competitions should produce unprecedented rivalry.

The men's singles attracted 32 two contenders—a record for any tennis tournament in Shanghai—and its development should be watched with interest. Lewis Carson, four-time champion here, is drawn in the lower bracket. He is again picked to win, should meet H. Collaco in the quarter-finals probably the winner between Poker Tong and Z. L. Sia in the semi-finals.

The leading figures in the upper bracket are C. C. Squires, T. C. Chang and Harry K. F. Li. Squires will find Chang, a veteran who displayed good form in the Interport, a hard nut to crack in the quarter-final stage. Li should be able to pilot his way to the semi-finals.

Favourites Pointed Out

In the men's doubles 18 couples are entered. Carson and Squires, who withdrew in the S.L.T.A. Championship because of the latter's illness, are expected to emerge victorious again. Poker Tong and Harry Li, playing in the lower section, are probable finalists as they captured the Association title without much difficulty.

The draw in the ladies singles is rather unbalanced as three of the city's four leading exponents are involved in the upper bracket. Mrs. Billie Krenov, is in the first quarter while Miss Jimmie Holwill and Mrs. Thelma Collaco are in the second group. Two of the trio will have to be eliminated before the final is reached.

Mrs. R. Fletcher is drawn in the third quarter. Mrs. M. Reader Harris is in the fourth and may spring a surprise for she plays a steady baseline game and it takes more than ordinary efforts to beat her.

Mrs. Reader Harris, pairing with Mrs. T. M. Burton, should score a second victory in the ladies doubles, following the team's success in the S.L.T.A. Championship. Mrs. Krenov and Miss Holwill are picked as the other finalists.

In the mixed doubles, the last of the five titles at stake, the combination of Carson and Mrs. J. E. Perkins in the lower bracket serves notice. The local champion breaks up his partnership with Mrs. Reader Harris with whom Carson captured the Association Championship. The shake-up may cause the competition to become an open affair.

The time schedule for the various matches for today reads:—

1.30 p.m.—K. T. Tsai v. B. Krenov, court 3; Mrs. T. Collaco v. Miss Be Cee Lo, court 4; H. Collaco v. P. Oliveira, court 5; A. V. Guterres v. B. K. Wallace, court 6.

2.15 p.m.—Miss Hilwill v. Miss Mimie Ouei, court 3; L. D. Carson v. D. Rosenzwig, court 4; C. C. Squires v. S. A. Judah, court 5; F. Shaffer v. T. H. Chen, court 6.

3 p.m.—T. C. Chang v. R. D. Boyer, court 3; H. K. F. Li v. L. Lee, court 4; Lt. R. E. M. Ward v. Gordon Chen, court 5; Rompen-Klimanek v. Jourdan-Ouang, court 6.

3.45 p.m.—Mme. des Courtils v. Mrs. L. Bryan, court 3; Carson-Squires v. Moore-Capt. Williamson, court 4; S. T. Wong v. K. M. Getz, court 5; Mme. Mary-Mrs. L. A. Popoff v. Miss Lo-Mrs. Collaco, court 6.

Owing to the large number of entries in this tournament competitors are asked to be on the courts and ready to play at least 15 minutes before the scheduled time and to begin their matches as soon as the courts are available.

Eagles Defeat Young Chicago Team

"Whizzer" White Leads All U.S. Pro Footballers

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.

The Philadelphia Eagles celebrated Navy Day at Franklin Field today by defeating the youthful Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a league game.

The victory enabled the surprisingly rejuvenated Eagles to move a notch closer to the pace-setting New York Giants and Washington Redskins in the Eastern Division of the National League.

First official League statistics published here today revealed that Byron "Whizzer" White, star Pittsburgh Pirate halfback playing his first season of pro football, is the leading ground gainer of the league thus far, having piled up a total of 288 yards from scrimmage in his games with the Pirates this year.

Cecil Isbell, former Purdue star at present playing for the Green Bay Packers, is second with a total of 279, while Andy Farkas of Washington is third with 269.

The remainder of the backs are rather closely bunched a good distance behind the three leaders.—United Press.

Highly Successful Bowls Interport

Shanghai Team Returning With Prentice Cup and Excellent Record

As the Interport Team sailed for Shanghai in the Wingsang on Thursday evening the last game upon the Hongkong programme, Shanghai v. Association Rink, fixed for yesterday could not take place. It is not known definitely whether the whole of the side will appear when the Wingsang arrives as there is a possibility of one or two of the members staying a little longer in the Colony.

It is now possible to take stock of the series and of matches and games which where played by Shanghai's representatives. In the first place, Shanghai may well be proud of the performance and the heartiest congratulations are due to W. Wallace and his men, not forgetting A. M. Gerrard the extra man, who assisted them in some of the friendly games.

The only two matches where the results are not yet known are those played on October 24 and 25. The latter date was reserved for play against the Yacht Club and Kowloon Tong and was to consist of one rink. Tuesday's game was a three rink affair when Shanghai was to meet a team selected by H. E. the Governor to be played at Government House. The Shanghai side selected was:—

H. Wallace, W. J. MacDermott, J. W. Brierley, J. M. C. Lopes, K. L. Swartzell, A. M. Gutierrez, T. Mason, A. Braid, W. Houston, E. Campbell, A. J. Hall and A. M. Gerrard.

H. E. the Governor's twelve were to be:—

H. E. Sir Geoffery Northcote, Dr. J. Newton, E. S. Carter, J. Deakin, the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, C. B. Hosking, the Hon. Mr. A. L. Shields, R. Duncan, G. S. Archbutt, Dr. J. C. Smalley, A. Hyde-Lay and J. F. McGowan.

Enviable Record

Of the eleven games during their visit, Shanghai came through with the very enviable record of eight wins, two losses and one draw. The visitors won the second Interport in a very downright manner, 30 shots to 10, and by winning the third, 20 shots to 17, disposed of any further debate upon the first drawn match, Shanghai, therefore, returned with the Prentice Cup in their possession.

The Shanghai players in the Interports were selected as follows:—

Oct. 16.—H. Wallace (skip), W. J. MacDermott, A. M. Gutierrez and J. M. C. Lopes. Result, draw 20 all.
Oct. 19.—H. Wallace (skip), A. M. Gutierrez, J. M. C. Lopes, and K. L. Swartzell. Result, Shanghai win 40-10.
Oct. 22.—H. Wallace (skip), A. M. Gutierrez, J. M. C. Lopes and K. L. Swartzell. Result, Shanghai win 20-17.

Friendly Results

The results of the friendly games and the names of the visitors participating are as follows:—

Oct. 15.—Shanghai defeat Craigengower Cricket Club 22-19 J. M. C. Lopes (skip), A. M. Gutierrez, W. J. McDermott and K. L. Swartzell.
Oct. 17.—Shanghai defeat Kowloon Football Club 21-20 J. W. Brierley (skip), J. M. C. Lopes, A. M. Gutierrez and K. L. Swartzell.

Oct 24.—Shanghai defeat Hongkong Football Club 26-14 J. M. C. Lopes. (skip),, A. M. Gutierrez, W. J. McDermott and K. L. Swatzell.
Oct. 27.—Shanghai defeat Taikoo and Hongkong Electric 21-15 H. Wallace (skip), A. M. Gutierrez, W. J. McDermott and K. L. Swartzell.

Baer Scores K.O. In Record Time

Flattens Hankinson in 48 Seconds Including Count

Honolulu, Oct. 27.

Max Baer, former heavyweight champion of the world who is now engaged upon a comeback, moved a step closer to a bout with Champion Joe Louis when he established a new local record here today in knocking out Hank Hankinson, highly-touted and hard-hitting California heavyweight, in 48 seconds of the first round, including the count.

The bout was the major attraction of the Elks' Benefit Carnival now under way in this city, and was attended by a huge throng which gave Baer a mighty ovation as he stood smiling into a sea of faces over the prostrate body of Hankinson.

Baer, who is in deadly earnest about his fighting these days, a far cry from the clowning playboy of two years ago, weighed 221, about six pounds over his best weight, while Hankinson tipped the beam at 213.—United Press.

Royal Society of St. George

Mr. W. J. Keswick Guest at Thursday's Luncheon

The monthly luncheons of the committee of the local branch of the Royal Society of St. George were resumed this week, when the first following the summer was held on Thursday at the Shanghai Club under the presidency of Mr. T. G. Drakeford this year's president. The guest of honour was Mr. W. J. Keswick, President of St. Andrew's Society.

In proposing the toast of the guest of honour, Mr. Drakeford referred to the long connection of the Keswick family with Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., and through them with Shanghai, pointing out that Mr. Keswick's grandfather joined the firm as far back as 1858, and that he and others of the family had served Ewo for no fewer than 102 years. There was a legend that Shanghai families did not last for more than two generations, but this was disproved by Mr. Keswick's family which had already three generations with a fourth in training to take over.

Mr. Keswick, in an admirable reply, insisted upon the necessity of the British community acting in concert in such a time as that through which they were passing, and pointed out that grave as the situation appeared to be it could be successfully passed by mutual understanding and co-operation.

Anniversary of March On Rome Celebrated

Italian Community Mark Foundation of Fascism

The seventeenth anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome was observed yesterday by the local Italian community, which assisted at a solemn Mass celebrated in the morning on board the Italian cruiser Raymondo Montecuccoli and then met at a large reception held in the afternoon at the Casa d'Italia.

Seventeen years ago Signor Benito Mussolini entered the capital at the head of the Fascist revolutionary forces and was called by H.M. the King to form the government which since then has guided the destinies of the Italian nation.

All the warships in the harbour were beflagged on the occasion of the anniversary. Two more holidays will shortly be observed by local Italian community. The nearest of these is the anniversary of the Battle of Vittorio Veneto, which takes place on Friday, while the 69th birthday of H.M. King Victor Emanuel will be celebrated a week later.

New Shanghai Mayor Gets to Work

Recently Formed Unlawful Organizations Dissolved

Mr. Fu Siao-En, the new Mayor of Greater Shanghai who left a few days ago by aeroplane for Nanking in order to consult the members of the Reformed Government in Nanking on questions of the reorganization of the local City Government here, returned to Shanghai last night after having met all the civil and military members of the Government.

Mr. Fu Siao-En, who has already organized the different departments of the City Government has given instructions to deal first of all with the urgent question of having cleaned up the streets, burial of dead bodies so as to improve the hygienic situation of Shanghai and provide for the control of the influx of undesirable Chinese and foreign elements who are a constant menace to the peace and good order of Shanghai.

Mr. Fu's plan is to dissolve, without further delay, the different undawful associations and organizations which lately have come in existence and has dissolved amongst others the Shanghai Citizens Association which had its headquarters in the Yokohama Specie Bank Building on the Bund and different labour organizations with communistic tendencies.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce, Native Bankers Associations and other important political and commercial institutions are in the way of reorganization and adjustment and a considerable improvement in the security and prosperity of Shanghai is thereby expected in the near future.

Hire Car Driver Beaten By Highlander

Incident Over Chit Outside Shanghai Race Club

A hire-car chauffeur was badly beaten about the face by a soldier belonging to the Seaforth Highlanders early yesterday morning in Mohawk Road, at the south entrance to the Shanghai Race Club. The soldier was returning by car to his billet at the Race Club, at about 2.30 a.m., when an argument started between him and the driver over the payment of the fare. It was said that the soldier insisted on signing a chit, which the chauffeur would not accept.

The Seaforth Highlander had left his glengarry on the rear seat of the car as he got out, and when he tried to retrieve it the driver intervened. The soldier, it was reported, then hit the other man in the face several times and ran into the barracks.

Policemen from the Chengtu Road Station arrived on the scene and despatched the driver to Paulun Hospital, where he was treated for bruises of the nose and cheeks and two "black eyes." The case was reported by detectives to the British military authorities, who began an investigation immediately. The identity of the pugnacious soldier had not been ascertained at the time of the report, but it was thought that it would be an easy matter to trace him. It is understood the Army authorities are taking a serious view of the matter.

According to some reports, altogether three soldiers were involved in the row, which awakened many persons asleep in the building at the time.

German Agitation In S.W. Africa

Bund Leader Calls for United Stand; Mombasa Crowd Vote for Britain

Lindhoek, Oct. 28.

Circulars appealing to all Germans able to do so to join the Deutsch Sudwest Bund (German South West League) have been sent out by the leader, Dr. H. B. K. Hirsekorn, who is a member of the Executive Council of South West Africa.

Dr. Hirsekorn recently returned here from Germany.

Dr. Hirsekorn expressed the conviction that Germans in South West Africa, in view of recent events, must be inspired by some desire and definite resolve to create a strong and united organization which would be in a position to represent and protect German interests and territory.—Reuter.

Tanganyika League Grows

Mombasa, Oct. 28.

A resolution demanding the retention of Tanganyika under British rule was passed unanimously before over 60,000 Europeans, Indians, Arabs and Swahilis yesterday.

The Tanganyika League, formed for the retention of the territory within the Empire, now numbers many thousands, and funds are pouring in daily from all over East Africa.—Reuter.

Berlin Paper's Attack

Berlin, Oct. 28.

An article in "Der Angriff" fiercely attacks the demonstrations in the former German colonies in South and East Africa against the return of these territories to Germany.

"We are watching this activity, and must face the fact that it is of grotesque as well as comic character," the paper declares. "Persons in these organizations are those who made millions of money, and who, consequently, fear that they might lose their easy source of income if the situation should change."—Reuter.

Mr. Pirow's Visit

London, Oct. 28.

The visit of Mr. Oswald Pirow, the Defence Minister of the Union of South Africa, to Portugal is being followed with interest, in view of Germany's colonial claims.—Reuter.

Portugal's View Stated

Lisbon, Oct. 28.

Despite reports from abroad, opinion in well-informed circles is that the Government will not discuss the question of the possible return to Germany of her colonies with Mr. Oswald Pirow, Minister of Defence of the Union of South Africa.

These circles hold that the German claims do not concern Portugal, whose territorial possessions in Africa were not acquired from Germany, or any other country, but discovered by Portuguese centuries ago.

Portugal's Prime Minister, Dr. Antonio Oliviera de Salazar, is also taking Herr Hitler at his word when he says that Germany is not interested in colonial possessions not belonging to her before the War.

What may emerge from the talks between Mr. Pirow and Dr. de Salazar, it is considered, is an understanding that Portugal, through her colonies, would render to South Africa any possible assistance in the event of South Africa being attacked by a foreign Power.—Reuter.

Relief Work in China Acknowledged at Home

L.M.S., China Council's Thanks to British Fund

In connection with the Lord Mayor's Fund for Relief in China, the Secretary of the Central Executive Committee of the British Fund for Relief in China has received the following letter from the Rev. A. Baxter, Secretary of the China Council of the London Missionary Society.

"The China Council of the London Missionary Society which represents the work of the Society in China as a whole, desires to express to the Executive Committees of the Lord Mayor's Fund in London and Shanghai, and to all who have supported the Fund by gifts of money and supplies, its sincere gratitude for substantial and needed assistance to hospitals and to relief work where the Society is at work.

The help rendered by the Lord Mayor's Fund has enabled our hospitals to meet the urgent need of a large number of destitute and sick people suffering from the effects of the present war, and to minister the bare necessities of life to many who would otherwise have had to face starvation.

It is our earnest hope that the Lord Mayor's Fund will continue to receive the active support of people at home, so that it may be able to go on with its humane work during the coming winter, when the need for relief is likely to be increasingly urgent."

New Plymouths Here

Messrs. Mark L. Moody announce the showing today in their salesroom of the 1939 Plymouth Six, the full staff of attendants being there to elucidate the many new technical improvements, which lend toward greater flexibility, manoeuverability and safety. The greatest mechanical refinement, however, is the dual-power transmission, which allows for five forward speeds, including two seconds and two thirds. The engine automatically takes care of the over-speeds by mere pressure on the petrol pedal.

The new remote control lever, obviating the use of the gear shift, is placed on the steering wheel and a light pressure, in conjunction with the clutch pedal, makes driving so much easier, and makes for more room in front.

New stream-lined body lines and radiator front make the 1939 Plymouth a delight to the eye as well.

American Demands on Japan Formally Unanswered

Washington Note Details Grounds for Objection To Discrimination Against U.S. Nationals

Washington, Oct. 27.

THE United States Government today was still awaiting a reply to the State Department's protest to Japan on October 6 against Japan's closing of the "Open Door" in China at the expense of American business interests. Government circles said here today that the strong tone of the American Note to Japan was prompted by increasing pressure on the State Department by American businessmen in the Far East.

The State Department revealed yesterday that Mr. Joseph Grew, American Ambassador to Japan, had handed the Japanese Premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, who is now also Foreign Minister, the strong protest on October 6. The Japanese Government thus far has sent no reply, although the Note demanded immediate assurances and action designed to protect American interests in China. The State Department's Note, pointing out Japan's monopolistic practices in Manchuria, said that a similar policy was evident in Japanese occupied areas of China despite frequent Japanese assurances to the contrary. The Note also protested against continued interference with American mails and telegrams by Japanese censors in China.

"Your Excellency cannot fail to recognize the existence of a great and growing disparity between treatment accorded American nationals and their trade enterprise by Japanese authorities in China and Japan and the treatment accorded Japanese nationals and their trade enterprise by the Government of the United States in areas within its jurisdiction," the Note said.

The Note asked Japan "to implement assurances already given with regard to the maintenance of the Open Door' and non-interference with American rights" by undertaking prompt and effective measures to remedy present discriminatory action against American interests in China.

Full Text of Note

The text of the Note said:

"The Government of the United States has had frequent occasion to make representations to Your Excellency's Government in regard to action taken and policies carried out in China under Japanese authority to which the Government of the United States takes exception as being in its opinion in contravention of the principle and the condition of equality of opportunity or the 'open door' in China. In response to these representations and in other connections both public and private the Japanese Government has given categorical assurances that equality of opportunity or the open door in China will be maintained. The Government of the United States is constrained to observe, however, that notwithstanding the assurances of the Japanese Government in this regard violations by Japanese agencies of American rights and interests have persisted.

"As having by way of illustration a bearing upon the situation to which the Government of the United States desires to invite the attention of the Japanese Government, it is recalled that at the time of the Japanese occupation of Manchuria the Japanese Government gave assurances that the open door in Manchuria would be maintained. However, the principal economic activities in that area have been taken over by special companies which are controlled by Japanese nationals and which are established under special charters according them a preferred or exclusive position. A large part of American enterprise which formerly operated in Manchuria has been forced to withdraw from that territory as a result of the preferences in force there. Arrangements between Japan and the regime now functioning in Manchuria allow the free movement of goods and funds between Manchuria and Japan while restricting rigidly the movement of goods and funds between Manchuria and countries other than Japan.

Equality of Opportunity

"This channelling of the movement of goods is effected primarily by means of exchange control exercised under the authority of regulations issued under an enabling law which provide expressly that for the purposes of the law Japan shall not be considered a foreign country nor the Japanese yen a foreign currency. In the opinion of my Government equality of opportunity or the open door has virtually ceased to exist in Manchuria notwithstanding the assurances of the Japanese Government that it would be maintained in that area.

"The Government of the United States is now apprehensive lest there develop in other areas of China which have been occupied by Japanese military forces since the beginning of the present hostilities a situation similar in its adverse effect upon the competitive position of American business to that which now exists in Manchuria.

"On April 12, 1938, I had occasion to invite the attention of Your Excellency's predecessor to reports which had reached the Government of the United States indicating that discrimination in favour of Japanese trade with North China was likely to be effected by means of exchange control and ask for assurances that the Japanese Government would not support or countenance financial measures discriminatory against American enterprises. Although the Minister for Foreign Affairs stated then that the Japanese Government would continue to support the principle of equal opportunity or the open door in China no specific reply has yet been made by the Japanese Government on the subject of these representations.

Tsingtao Restrictions

"The Government of the United States now learns that the Japanese authorities at Tsingtao have in effect established an exchange control, that they are exercising a discriminatory authority to prohibit exports unless export bills are sold to the Yokohama Specie Bank, and that the Bank refuses to purchase export bills except at an arbitrary rate far lower than the open market rate prevailing at Tientsin and Shanghai. A somewhat similar situation apparently prevails at Chefoo. Furthermore, reports continue to reach the American Government that a comprehensive system of exchange control will soon be established throughout North China. Control of foreign exchange transactions gives control of trade and commercial enterprise and the exercise, either directly or indirectly by the Japanese authorities of control of exchange in North China would place those authorities in position to greatly impede free competition between Japan and the United States in that area. In such a situation imports from and exports to the United States as well as the choice of dealers in North China would be entirely subjected to the dispensation of the Japanese authorities. Notwithstanding the short time that exchange control has been enforced in Tsingtao two cases of discrimination have already been brought to the attention of the Government of the United States. In one instance an American dealer in a staple commodity has been unable to export to the United States because Japanese authorities there have insisted that his export bills be sold to a Japanese bank at a rate so far below the current rate of exchange of the Chinese currency in the open market that such transaction would involve a loss rather than a profit; but a Japanese competitor recently completed a large shipment invoiced at a price in United States dollars which was equivalent to the local market price calculated at the current open market rate. In the other instance an American firm was prevented from purchasing tabacco in Shantung unless it should purchase so-called Federal Reserve notes or yen currency with foreign exchange and at an arbitrary and low rate of exchange, conditions not imposed upon the company's Japanese or Chinese competitors.

Customs Tariff Revision

"The Government of the United States has already pointed out to the Japanese Government that alterations of the Chinese customs tariff by the regimes functioning in those portions of China occupied by Japanese armed forces and for which the Japanese Government has formally assured its support are arbitrary and illegal assumptions of authority for which the Japanese Government has an inescapable responsibility. It is hardly necessary to add that there can be no equality of opportunity or open door in China so long as the ultimate authority to regulate, tax, or prohibit trade is exercised, whether directly or indirectly, by the authorities of one 'foreign' Power in furtherance of the interests of that Power.

"It would appear to be self-evident that a fundamental prerequisite of a condition of equality of opportunity or open door in China is the absence in the economic life of that country of preferences or monopolistic rights operating directly or indirectly in favour of any foreign country or its nationals. On July 4 I spoke to General Ugaki of the desire of the American Government that there be avoided such restrictions and obstacles to American trade and other enterprises as might result from the setting up of special companies and monopolies in China. The Minister was so good as to state that the open door in China would be maintained and that the Government of the United States might rest assured that the Japanese Government would fully respect the principle of equal opportunity.

Communications Monopoly

"Notwithstanding these assurances, the provisional regime in Peiping announced on July 30 the inauguration, as of the following day, of the China Telephone and Telegraph Company, the reported purpose of this organization being to control and to have exclusive operation of telephone and telegraph communications in North China. There was organized in Shanghai on July 31 the Central China Telecommunications Company, and the special service section of the Japanese Army has informed foreign cable and telegraph companies that the new company proposes to control all the telecommunications in Central China. According to a semi-official Japanese press report, there was organized at Shanghai on July 28 the Shanghai Inland Navigation Steamship Company, to be controlled by Japanese, the reported object of which is to control water transportation in the Shanghai delta area. According to information which has reached my Government a Japanese company has been organized to take over and operate the wharves at Tsingtao which have hitherto been publicly owned and operated. Should such a development occur all shipping of whatever nationality would become dependent upon a Japanese agency for allotments of space and stevedoring facilities. The wool trade in North China is now reported to be a Japanese monopoly and a tobacco monopoly in that area is reported to be in process of formation. Moreover, according to numerous reports which have been reaching my Government the Japanese Government is proceeding with the organization of two special promotion companies which it has chartered and which it will control with the object of investing in, unifying and regulating the administration of certain large sectors of economic enterprise in China.

"The developments of which I have made mention are illustrative of the apparent trend of Japanese policy in China and indicate clearly that the Japanese authoriiets are seeking to establish in areas which have come under Japanese military occupation general preferences for, and superiority of, Japanese interests, an inevitable effect of which will be to frustrate the practical application of the principle of the open door and deprive American nationals of equal opportunity.

"I desire also to call Your Excellency's attention to the fact that unwarranted restrictions placed by the Japanese military authorities upon American nationals in China—notwithstanding the existence of American treaty rights in China and the repeated assurances of the Japanese Government that steps had been taken which would insure that American nationals, interests and properties would not be subject to unlawful interference by Japanese authorities—further subject American interests to continuing serious inconvenience and hardship. Reference is especially to the restrictions placed by the Japanese military upon American nationals who desire to re-enter and re-occupy properties from which they have been driven by the hostilities and of which the Japanese military have been or still are in occupation. Mention may also be made of the Japanese censorship of and interference with American mail and telegrams at Shanghai and of restrictions upon freedom of trade residence and travel by Americans, including the use of railways, shipping and other facilities. While Japanese merchant vessels are carrying Japanese merchandise between Shanghai and Nanking those vessels decline to carry merchandise of other countries, and American and other non-Japanese shipping is excluded from the lower Yangtze on the grounds of military necessity.

Yangtze Traffic Passes

"Applications by American nationals for passes which would allow them to return to certain areas in the lower Yangtze valley have been denied by Japanese authorities on the ground that peace and order have not been sufficiently restored, although many Japanese merchants and their families are known to be in those areas.

"American nationals and their interests have suffered serious losses in the Far East arising from causes directly attributable to the present conflict between Japan and China, and even under the most favourable conditions an early rehabilitation of American enterprises in China and of American trade with China cannot be expected. The American Government therefore finds it all the more difficult to reconcile itself to a situation in which American nationals must contend with continuing unwarranted interference with their rights at the hands of the Japanese authorities in China and with Japanese actions and policies which operate to deprive American trade and enterprises of equality of opportunity in China. It is also pertinent to mention that in Japan, too, American trade and other interests are undergoing severe hardships as a result of the industrial, trade, exchange and other controls which the Japanese Government has imposed incident to its military operations in China.

Treaty Obligations

"While American interests in the Far East have been thus treated at the hands of the Japanese authorities the Government of the United States has not sought either in its own territory or in the territory of third countries to establish or influence the establishment of embargoes, import prohibitions, exchange controls, preferential restrictions, monopolies or special companies designed to eliminate or having the effect of eliminating Japanese trade and enterprise. In its treatment of Japanese nationals and their trade and enterprise, the American Government has been guided not only by the letter and spirit of the Japanese-American commercial treaty of 1911 but by those fundamental principles of international law and order which have formed the basis of its policy in regard to all peoples and their interests; and Japanese commerce and enterprise have continued to enjoy in the United States equality of opportunity.

"Your Excellency cannot fail to recognize the existence of a great and growing disparity between the treatment accorded American nationals and their trade and enterprise by Japanese authorities in China and Japan and the treatment accorded Japanese nationals and their trade and enterprise by the Government of the United States in areas within its jurisdiction.

Implementing Assurances

In the light of the situation herein reviewed, the Government of the United States asks that the Japanese Government implement its assurances already given with regard to the maintenance of the open door and to non-interference with American rights by taking prompt and effective measures to cause:

1. The discontinuance of discriminatory exchange control and of other measures imposed in areas in China under Japanese control which operate either directly or indirectly to discriminate against American trade and enterprise;
2. The discontinuance of any monopoly or of any preference which would deprive American nationals of the right of undertaking any legitimate trade or industry in China or of any arrangement which might purport to establish in favour of Japanese interests any general superiority of rights with regard to commercial or economic development in any region of China; and
3. The discontinuance of interference by Japanese authorities in China with American property and other rights, including such forms of interference as censorship of American mail and telegrams and restrictions upon residence and travel by Americans and upon American trade and shipping.

"The Government of the United States believes that in the interest of relations between the United States and Japan an early reply would be helpful."—United Press.

Japan's Reply to U.S. To Be Given Soon

Nine-Power Pact Change May be Requested

Tokyo, Oct. 28.

A draft of the Japanese Government's reply to representations on October 6 from the American Ambassador, Mr. Joseph Clark Grew, regarding the principle of the "open door" in China and maintenance of the Nine-Power Pact is being prepared by the Premier, Prince Konoye, and will be submitted to the American Government shortly, Domei was informed in reliable quarters tonight.

A Foreign Office spokesman declared today that Japan possibly would request a modification of the pact on the grounds that new circumstances have arisen as a result of the China hostilities.

The Japanese Government would respect the "open door" principle but Japan's policy might be affected by the new situation created by the China conflict, especially in view of military necessity, the spokesman declared. He pointed out that hostilities were still going on and this must be taken into consideration.

The new situation in the Far East resulting from the "degeneration of the Gen. Chiang Kai-shek regime into a provincial administration" and the establishment of new governments "actually had modified the Far Eastern peace fabric based on the Nine-Power Pact," the "Asahi" declared.

The paper expressed the opinion that the government's reply will "endeavour to induce the United States to understand the actual situation in the Far East in its true light and also clarify Japan's real intentions regarding the China hostilities."—Domei.

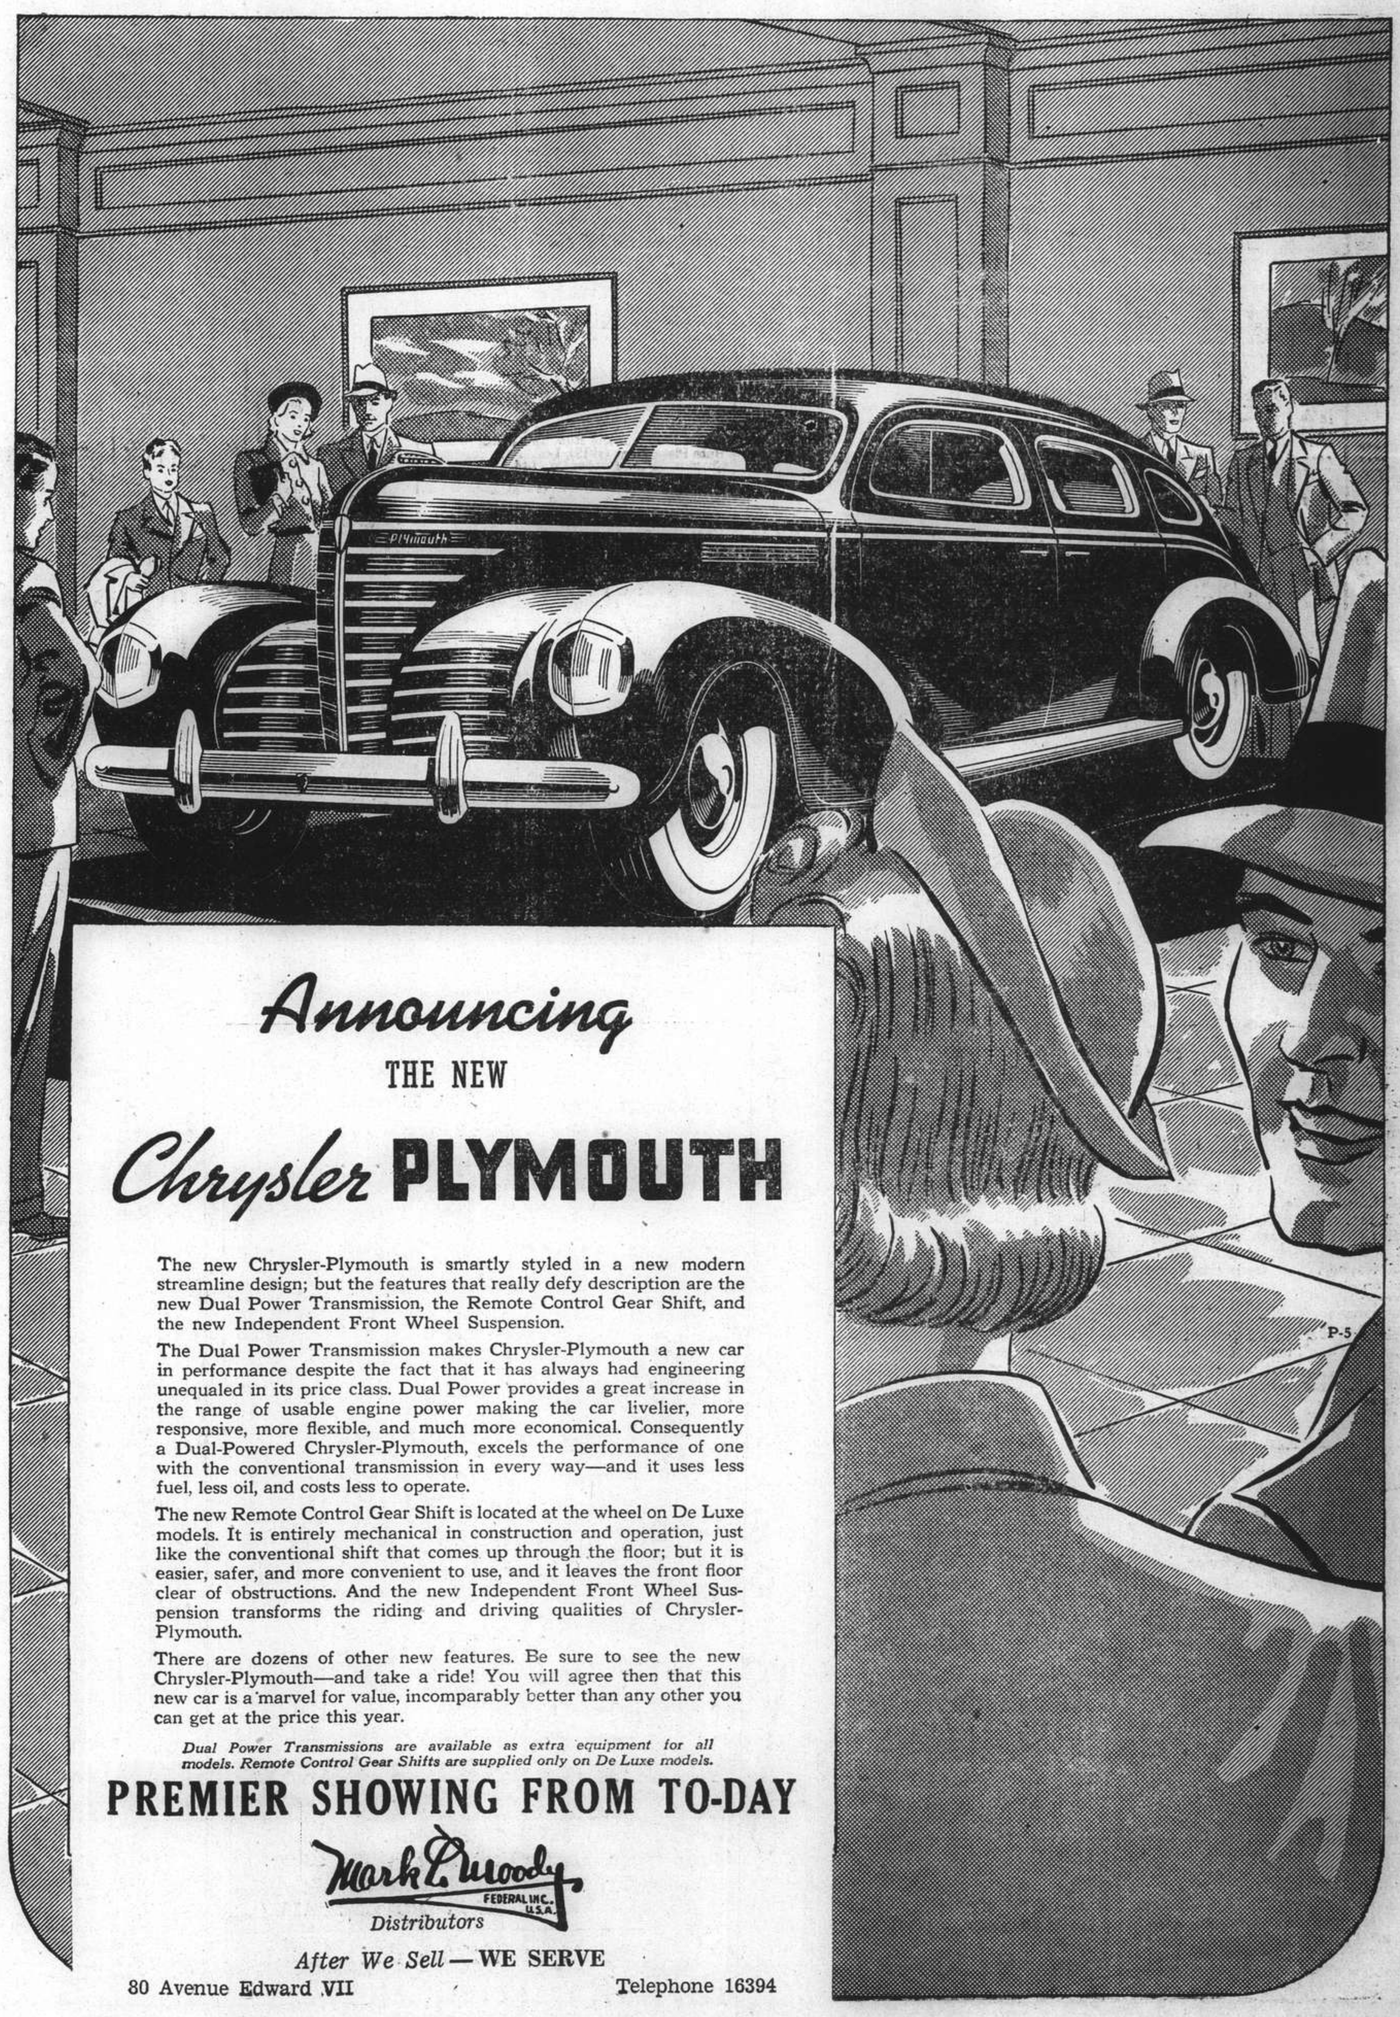
THE LIVEST SPOT IN SHANGHAI



Announcing

THE NEW

Chrysler PLYMOUTH

The new Chrysler-Plymouth is smartly styled in a new modern streamline design; but the features that really defy description are the new Dual Power Transmission, the Remote Control Gear Shift, and the new Independent Front Wheel Suspension.

The Dual Power Transmission makes Chrysler-Plymouth a new car in performance despite the fact that it has always had engineering unequaled in its price class. Dual Power provides a great increase in the range of usable engine power making the car livelier, more responsive, more flexible, and much more economical. Consequently a Dual-Powered Chrysler-Plymouth, excels the performance of one with the conventional transmission in every way—and it uses less fuel, less oil, and costs less to operate.

The new Remote Control Gear Shift is located at the wheel on De Luxe models. It is entirely mechanical in construction and operation, just like the conventional shift that comes up through the floor; but it is easier, safer, and more convenient to use, and it leaves the front floor clear of obstructions. And the new Independent Front Wheel Suspension transforms the riding and driving qualities of Chrysler-Plymouth.

There are dozens of other new features. Be sure to see the new Chrysler-Plymouth—and take a ride! You will agree then that this new car is a marvel for value, incomparably better than any other you can get at the price this year.

Dual Power Transmissions are available as extra equipment for all models. Remote Control Gear Shifts are supplied only on De Luxe models.

London Silver Market

London, Oct. 27.

Messrs. Mocatta and Goldsmid, in their weekly bullion letter, write: There has been scarcely any movement in the price of silver in the London market during the past week, and those that occurred were chiefly in sympathy with movements of the New York exchange. The chief demand has been for American trade account and there have been small operations both ways for India.

Stocks of silver in London at the end of the week totalled 4,000,000 ounces.—Reuter.

New York Stocks

Thursday's Closing Quotations

New York, Oct. 27.

Stock prices on Wall Street today mostly finished from fractions to about one point either way. News was generally in favour of recovery forces, but some profit taking appeared. Steels were sustained. Utilities encountered selling after advancing on buying for the long pull. Coppers and motors were subjected to profit-taking. Aircrafts received support, with orders accumulating and earnings estimates being revised upwards. Rails displayed resistance on the possibility of a wage cut which was much discussed. Meanwhile, the fact that setbacks are not considered important is viewed as constructive. The turnover today amounted to 2,000,000 shares.

Dow-Jones Summary

By Courtesy of Swan, Culbertson & Fritz

Prices ruled strong on the Stock Exchange today during the early part of the session, but later a reaction set in on profit-taking. However, rumours that the Government would soon announce a billion dollar Utility and Defence Programme brought about a general rally. Rails were in demand, and most of these issues retained part of their advances, owing to the fact that the net operating incomes of the Naion's railroads for October are expected to be the highest recorded since October, 1937. Likewise, traders are awaiting the "Fact Finding Committee's" report, which is rumoured to be favourable to the railroads. It is believed that steel operations will soon reach a "pay point."

Interim Dividend Declared

The Board of Directors of the Anglo Java Estates Ltd., yesterday declared an interim dividend of twenty five dollar cents per share on account of the year ending December 31, 1938 to those on the register of shareholders on November 14, 1938.

Reichsmark Quotations

Berlin, Oct. 27.

The Reichsmark was quoted today at New York 40.08 Paris 1503.—Amsterdam 73.625 to 73.675 London 11.9125.

Paris quoted sterling at 178.80 to 178.87 and the U.S.A. Dollar at 37.44.—Trans-Ocean.

Foreign Trade of China for Sept.

According to the monthly returns issued by the Chinese Maritime Customs covering foreign trade of this country, net Imports during September 1938 totalled $75,137,566. Net Exports totalled $79,822,793 January-September figures were $663,393,667 and $559,895,668 respectively, as compared with the corresponding figures last year of $819,760,890 and $684,-023,133.

U.S. Commodities

Thursday's Closing Quotations

New York, Oct. 27.

Trading was inactive in the cotton market, with operaters keeping to the side-lines awaiting developments. Prices declined slightly on lower Liverpool cables, trade liquidation, hedging and co-operatives selling. Later, the market steadied up on some limited foreign demand. At the close, quotations ranged from 5 points down to 1 point up from the previous day.

Steady conditions prevailed in the rubber market on the final private estimate, indicating a substantial reduction in British stocks, while factory buying bolstered sentiment. Finally, prices eased on local selling. At the last call-over losses from 1 to 15 points were recorded.

The Chicago Wheat Pit ruled very dull today. Prices moved lower on the sharp decline in Liverpool, indications of an early Southern Hemisphere harvest and professional selling. Towards the close, the market steadied up on lifting of hedges. At the final bell, quotations ranged from ⅛ of a cent down to ⅛ of a cent up from yesterday.

Quietly steady conditions prevailed in the sugar market, with prices advancing on trade and commission house buying in response to the firmness of the London market. At the close, No. 4 contract showed gains from 1½ to 2 points.

Silk prices ruled easier today. Activity was at a low ebb. Sellers were reluctant to operate in view of the favourable statistical position and encouraging business outlook, while traders were inclined to await developments. Finally, exporters selling offset dealers buying. At the end of the day, quotations were from 2 cents down to 1 cent up.

Berlin Bourse

Berlin, Oct. 27.

An almost complete lack of buying orders was the distinguishing feature of today's share market. In view of payments falling due for purchases of the new Reichs loan and obligations that have to be met at the monthly settlement, bank customers had placed a certain amount of selling orders which led to a weakening of prices of the stock offered. This tendency was accentuated by the absence of any economic stimulating influences.

The recopening of the Vienna bourse was much discussed and the opinion voiced that when Australian securities are once listed on the Berlin bourse and German securities in Vienna both markets will profit therefrom substantially.

On the fixed interest securities market communal bonds were again to the fore, the decline of certain of these securities by ½ to 99 yesterday leading to further declines in the same class today. Business in provincial loans was small, while city loans recovered.

Call money was quoted at 2.¾ to 3 per cent.—Trans-Ocean.

"Deficiency of information in Japanese English-language newspapers is completed very successfully by an English newspaper in Kobe The Japan Chronicle . . on its pages can often be found criticisms of the political and economic actions of the Japanese Government and various other information which gives the opportunity to observe and to analyse the Japanese economic situation. In addition to the usual material obtainable from all the Japanese English-language newspapers. The Japan Chronicle gives a very detailed and comprehensive review of the foreign trade of Japan. It regularly prints statistics pertaining to Japanese exports and the state of the home market."—Extracts from U.S.S.R. Chamber of Commerce Journal.
